Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12, 1875.

What Secretary Chandler Thinks.

Secretary Chandler, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, stated very emphatically to-night that measures had been taken to have a fair count of the electoral votes of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana. Were all the Democrats in the United States to go to those States they would not change the result. That outrageous frauds have been perpetrated there through intimidation and riotous demonstrations would be of no avail to secure the election of Mr. Tilden; that the votes of the various districts would be carefully scrutinized, and would be thrown out if in the slightest degree tainted. He said that it was useless to telegraph him (he now receives about two hundred telegrams daily), as the official count could not be known until the end of the next week, though private advices assured him that Hayes was elected, and that it would be so announced in a few days.

had a lengthy interview with the President to-night. Information has been received here of attempts of White Leaguers in remote sections of Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana to capture ballot boxes and to destroy them. It is proposed to summon witnesses, and if fraud is proven, the votes of the districts will be discarded. An effort is threatened to intimidate returning boards. Such a disposition of the forces of the Government will be made as to give ample protection. It is intimated that General Sherman to-night received full instructions as to his course under every emergency. These instructions were telegraphed to-night to the officers in command. The President stated to-night that General Garfield has gone to New Orleans. General Logan and Judge Edmunds have not, but that quite a number of gentleman were designated as published, most of whom have gone, and will see that a fair count is had.

WASHINGTON, November 12.—The selection of prominent gentlemen of both parties, at the suggestion of the President, to proceed to New Orleans and ascertain the true electoral vote of Louisiana, has had the effect of lessening the excitement which existed here during last week, and produced a more favorable feeling that the public peace will be preserved. The subject, however, continues of absorbing interest, and to-day inquiries were made by numerous persons at places where news concerning elections is usually obtained. Large numbers of private telegrams are sent hence for information concerning Louisiana and Florida, although nothing official on the subject can be expected for some days. Meanwhile each party claims the election of its respective candidates.

Prominent gentlemen say the President would intimate that the vacancies in the Louisiana Returning Board should be filled by persons of known honesty, and therefore having the confidence of the public; and if this should be done, there could be no cause for complaint in any quarter of the result to be reported.

The headquarters of the National Republican Committee have been removed from New York to No. 100 F street North, this city. Chairman Chandler and Secretary McCormick are now here.

No Change in the Situation.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The morning journals, each and all, see no change in the Presidential situation during the past twenty-four hours.

Republican majority in the State over 16,000

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, November 11.—The situation here has not materially changed since yesterday. The Republicans are still confident, resting upon the justness of their cause and the tale to be told by the ballots. The Democrats rest their hopes on the majorities secured by them in intimidated parishes where there was virtually no election. Two years ago the parish of East Feliciana gave a Republican majority of nearly one thousand. In the same parish on Tuesday last but one Republican vote was cast. In Morehouse, Ouachita and East Baton Rouge the "bull-dozing" was not so complete, but the plan and purpose were the same. The Republicans here are confident of establishing an unquestionable majority by the count of votes as found in the boxes. If they cannot the case belongs to the people of the Union. General Augur, by a careful disposition of troops, has taken every precaution which seems necessary to preserve the peace. The city is quiet waiting the issue. There is a feeling among the leaders of the Democratic party that nothing can be gained by a riot, and the intelligent citizens speak fairly of a willingness to abide by the result which may be shown to be right.

NEW ORLEANS, November 11.—The situation has not materially changed. Very few official returns have been received and no accurate reports from the more remote Red river parishes. We have just received the vote of Catahoula, a Democratic parish, which goes against us on the national ticket by 150, a slight gain for us. We elect a Republican member of the Legislature by three votes. This gives us the Lower House, and we are now quite certain of the Legislature on joint ballot.

WILLIAM P. KELLOGG.

NEW ORLEANS, November 11.—Chester B. Darrell, Republican, is re-elected to Congress in the Third district, and J. E. Leonard, Republican, is elected in the Fifth district. The other Congressional districts elect Democrats. It was claimed by Colonel Packard's opponents that he would run behind his ticket, but the figures show only a slight difference between the votes for Hayes and those for Packard.

FLORIDA.

TALLAHASSEE, November 11.—The political situation in Florida remains unchanged. Both parties claim that they have carried the State by from twelve hundred to two thousand votes, and no decision can be reached until an official count has been had. To provide against threatened violence by the Democrats, and possible frauds on the other side, ten companies of United States troops are now on the way to Tallahassee. Three of them will arrive here to-morrow, and the rest are expected on Monday. The count will then proceed as soon as the returns are all in, and it is expected that the result will be declared on Wednesday or Thursday next. General Young and other prominent Democrats of Georgia will arrive here to-morrow by a special train, and will remain until the count is over. They come at the request of the National Democratic Committee.

A SPECIMEN DEMOCRATIC OUTRAGE—NEGROES COMPELLED TO VOTE FOR TILDEN BY THREATS OF VIOLENCE—THE REPUBLICANS SURE OF A MAJORITY.

[Special Dispatch to the New York Times.]

JACKSONVILLE, November 11.—This morning Joel Niblack, J. McKinney and Elias Asten were brought to this city by a deputy United States marshal from Columbia county, charged with outrageous intimidation of colored voters. The circumstances are these: About a week prior to the election, three or four colored men, having in charge another colored man, under arrest, were met by Niblack and company, mounted and armed with shotguns, and told they must go with them. They were taken to a thick hummock, eight miles distant. On the way their lives were threatened, and on arriving they were told that they were to be sent to the place where another negro had mysteriously gone. A rope was then placed around the neck of one of the colored men, preparatory to hanging him. The whole party begged piteously for their lives, and after considerable time the men told them that if they would agree to join the Democratic club, and vote the Democratic ticket, with five others, which each man was made to promise they would get, they would be let off. This promise the negroes—not daring to expose the Ku-Klux party—faithfully adhered to, and on election day a dozen or more of negroes were driven to the polls like cattle by their persecutors, and compelled to vote for Tilden and the Democracy. When they had voted they were taken into the country several miles and permitted to go their own ways. This is only a specimen of what is coming to light. Niblack and Asten waived examination and were held in $2,500 bail to appear at the next term of the United States courts.

Troops are coming into the State now, and in a few days the Capital, threats of seizing which are freely made, will be safe. Nothing has occurred to shake, in the least, the figures which give the State to Hayes. The Republicans are everywhere active, and are promptly supported by the authorities.

Later.—Democratic reports from six precincts in Volusia county give a Democratic majority of ninety-one. Hayes and Wheeler are ahead of the State ticket about five hundred votes. Returns from several counties show gross Democratic frauds.

SAVANNAH, November 12.—A special to the Morning News from Lake City, Fla., says: The returns are in from all but four counties. Basing estimates of these counties upon the Democratic majority of 1874, gives the State to the Democrats by 800 majority. All the Democratic counties show a heavy increase, and the majority will be, at a safe estimate, from 1,200 to 1,400 Democratic. Tilden will not fall three hundred behind the State ticket.

MORE DEMOCRATS GOING IN SEARCH OF POLITICAL HONESTY.

NEW YORK, November 12.—The following gentlemen have consented to go to Florida to be present at the counting of the votes in that State: Manton Marble, W. E. Niblack, Senator William Eston, General W. B. Franklin, of Connecticut; Hon. L. O. Saltonstall, of Massachusetts; J. O. Brodhead, of Missouri; J. R. Reed, S. J. Townsend and Mr Sellars, of Pennsylvania.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, November 11.—The Board of State Canvassers met yesterday at 12 M. It consists of the State Treasurer, F. L. Cardoza, Controller T. C. Dunn, Secretary of State H. E. Hayne, Adjutant General H. E. Purvis and Attorney General William Stone. Returns from only twelve counties out of thirty-two were received. The board will meet daily until the canvass is completed, which must be in five days for the electors, and ten days for the State officers, from the time of meeting. One cause of the delay in getting at the result in this State in a close contest is found in the isolation of several counties, as Chesterfield, Horry and Georgetown, which have no railroads touching them. The precinct managers have three days in which to send the boxes to the county canvassers, and these again have three days in which they may act, so that a dull set of managers and again a dull set of county canvassers may keep back the count for a week. There are then ten days to make the State canvass. The official returns of twelve counties now in, with estimates made by the Democrats for the other counties, show a majority for Hampton of 1,428. In the twelve official counties Hayes runs one thousand ahead of Chamberlain. From reports received from other counties it may be safely set down that Hayes will run two thousand ahead of the Republican State ticket, and thus overcome the 1,428 majority claimed by the Democrats for Hampton. No doubt is felt here among prominent Republicans that Hayes has a majority which will be undisputed by any one. This will be after conceding the Democratic count in all the disturbed countries, where terrorism, repeating and ballot-box smashing have rolled up apocryphal Democratic majorities; but the Republicans do not concede the defeat of their State ticket. The claimed majorities of the Democrats have thus far been cut down in every instance by official returns, and evidence is accumulating daily of frauds, violence and irregularities which will inevitably prove that the assertions made by Governor Chamberlain in his call on the President, as to the plans and purposes of the rifle clubs, were based upon accurate information. In spite of the presence of a few Federal troops in the disturbed counties, the overwhelming numbers, the audacity and the thorough military organization of the shotgun Democracy succeeded in practically wiping out a Republican majority of 25,000—a majority composed not of lukewarm voters, but of men who would do and dare all that unarmed men anywhere would do and dare—to vote in accordance with their conviction. The forces and tactics of the Democrats were concentrated in Anderson, Abbeville, Edgsfield, Aiken and Barnwell. Thousands of Georgians crossed the shallow Savannah river into these border counties. They boldly rode from precinct to precinct by squads of fifty at a time, voting at each box. In some cases they drove the managers from the boxes and broke up strong Republican precincts. In two cases since the election the managers on the way to the court house with returns of strong Republican precincts have been waylaid and prevented from arriving in time to have them included in the official count. In more than one case the polling places have been surrounded by armed men, and held all day, not a Republican being allowed to vote. In one place in Edgefield, the colored Republicans were coralled early in the morning of election day and forced, at the point of the pistol, to vote as desired. To count such returns is to sanction revolution, not to declare the result of an election. Of course there is an over-mastering desire to avoid the slightest opportunity for cavil as to the canvass for electors—what is now regarded as out of danger. It is almost certain also, that the Republican State ticket is equally out of doubt, but the Democrats on the streets of Columbia openly threaten to kill the last one of the Republican canvassers if they do not count to suit the revolutionists. These threats do not come from the riff-raff, but from the very highest. General Hampton more than intimates his readiness to appeal elsewhere than to the lawfully organized canvassers. He said last night, when asked if he was Governor, that he had been elected, and if he was not so declared, he would know the reason why. If there are any reasons for sending a committee of prominent statesmen to Louisiana and Florida, the circumstances here call with equal force for the same kind of moral influence. Indeed, the need may be said to be greater. It seems strange that the only State on which the Executive felt obliged to call upon the Federal Government for aid in keeping the peace before and during the election, should be looked upon as less inflammable than Florida and Louisiana.

CHARLESTON, November 11.—By the latest corrected official returns, Hampton's majority is 1,484. The full returns indicate that Tilden has fallen much more behind Hampton's vote than has been supposed. In ten out of thirty-two counties Tilden's majority is 458 less than Hampton's; an equal ratio of loss in the remaining twenty-two counties would leave Tilden less than one hundred majority in the State.

CHARLESTON, November 11.—Governor Chamberlain still claims the State for the Republicans by from 5,000 to 7,000 majority.

COLUMBIA, November 11, 1876.

I would gladly give you the statement you request, but the official returns have not been received from more than eight counties. The figures given are, therefore, mostly estimates. These estimates differ greatly; to repeat them in detail would hardly be worth your while. You are familiar with the Democratic claims. The Republicans claim that after giving the Democrats all they can possibly claim, and accepting their figures in a great majority of the counties, Hayes still has a majority of about 3,200 and Chamberlain of about 2,100; but the Republicans insist that their best information, from most authentic sources, including all official returns now received or authoritatively reported to our Executive Committee, gives Hayes a majority of about 7,000 and Chamberlain of about 5,500.

That this State has gone for Hayes we have not a shadow of doubt, on either Democratic or Republican showing. On Republican showing we are equally sure of the election of Republican State officers and Legislature with a majority on joint ballot of over twenty.

D. H. CHAMBERLAIN.

COLUMBIA, November 11, 1876.

We have heard from our committees in each county of the State, in all thirty-two, with accurate reports of the votes cast. We carry eighteen counties for the State ticket, nineteen for the legislative and county tickets.

The vote for Governor is the only one on which we have full returns. The Democratic majority for Governor is about 1,400; the balance of the State ticket and the Presidential ticket have a smaller vote. The exact difference is not yet ascertained; but we think all will be elected. The Legislature has 124 members in the House and thirty-three in the Senate. We have elected sixty-four members of the House and fifteen of the Senate, a majority of one on joint ballot.

WADE HAMPTON.

CHARLESTON, November 11, 1876.

To the Editor of the New York Herald:

To comprehend the situation in this State, it must be understood that just as soon as the election is ended the managers count the votes in public, and make their return to the county canvassers. These rectify the count and make return to the State canvassers. These last canvass the returns of the whole State and declare the election. On the boards of managers, each consisting of three persons, two are Republicans and one is a Democrat. On the county canvassers the same proportion exists. The State Board of Canvassers is composed of the Secretary of State, Comptroller General, Attorney General, State Treasurer, Adjutant and Inspector General, and the Chairman of Committee of Privileges and Elections of the House. All of these are Republicans, and four of the present incumbents are candidates for the same offices now. We have reports from every board of managers of every county in the State, as follows:

Tilden runs about 600 behind Hampton.

Democrats protest against the election for fraud and intimidation in the counties of Beaufort, Charleston, Fairfield, Richland and Georgetown. Republicans protest against the election in the counties of Anderson and Edgefield.

The State canvassers will assume to hear these protests. The authority of their board to hear protests is denied in reference to the office of Governor because this is vested by the Constitution in the Legislature; in the case of members of Congress and of the State Senate and House of Representatives, because these are vested by law in their respective houses; in regard to all other offices, because the board, as now constituted, has no legal existence. The Legislature has a majority of one on a joint ballot.

CHARLES H. SIMONTON,
Chairman Democratic Committee.

CHARLESTON, November 12.—The latest correct returns give the Democratic State ticket 1,318 majority. The Tilden electors in thirteen of the thirty-two counties run 712 behind the State ticket. Governor Chamberlain claims the State for the Republicans by 2,000.

NORTH CAROLINA.

WILMINGTON, November 11.—The Democratic majority in this State will probably range from eleven to thirteen thousand. There will be no change in the Congressional delegation.

ARKANSAS.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 11.—The returns from all the counties in the State have been received, showing Tilden's majority to be 5,424.

TENNESSEE. .

NASHVILLE, November 11.—Nearly complete returns from Tennessee give Tilden a majority of not less than 40,000. The majority of Porter for Governor will be something less than 40,000 over Thomas, Independent Democrat.

The Democrats elect eight of the ten Congressmen, being a loss of one—McFarland in the First district. The Legislature which elects two United States Senators will have a majority of sixty on a joint ballot, the Senate standing twenty-one Democrats and four Republicans, and the House fifty-seven Democrats, two Independents, and sixteen Republicans.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, November 11.—The following are nearly accurate figures in the State of Illinois: The Legislature is composed of 24 Republicans, 22 Democrats, and 5 Independents in the Senate, and 82 Republicans, 71 Democrats in the House, giving a total of 98 Democrats and Independents, and 106 Republicans, and a majority on joint ballot of 8 Republicans. Eighty-six counties in the State give Hayes 22,899 majority, a Democratic gain of 20,890 over the vote of 1872, when Oglesby had 40,690. The sixteen counties to hear from gave 2,812 Democratic majority in 1872. In sixty-one counties, Cullom, Republican, for Governor, leads Stewart, Democrat and Independent, 9,583. There are forty-one counties to hear from on Governor.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 11.—In the Fourth Congressional district the returns thus far obtained, which are semi-official and trustworthy, give Pacheco, Republican, 623 majority. The small precincts to be heard from will not materially modify these figures.

VERMONT.

BOSTON, November 11.—The official returns of two hundred and thirty-three towns in Vermont give Hayes 41,407, and Tilden 18,650. The eight towns to hear from will increase Hayes' majority 300.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, November 11.—Hon. Rufus S. Frost filed a petition for a recount of the votes in the Fourth Congressional district.

DEMOCRATIC DESPERATION.

An Extraordinary Proclamation Issued by the Chairman of the Ohio Democratic Committee.

[Special Dispatch to the New York Times.]

COLUMBUS, November 11.—The following proclamation extraordinary was issued by John G. Thompson this evening and bulletined in front of the Democratic headquarters in this city:

The claim of leading Republican newspapers and committees to the effect that Hayes is elected is without foundation, and a conspiracy to usurp the Government. It is anarchy. It is revolution. It is the desperation of desperate men. It will all fail. The people have declared by their ballots that Tilden is elected President by 203 electoral votes and by a majority of 400,000 of the popular vote, and they will see to it that their voice, expressed at the ballot box, shall be respected. Be patient and await the retributive justice that will surely fall on the heads of the men who are advising the conspiracy to break up this Republic.

JOHN G. THOMPSON,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee.

OUTSIDE PRESSURE.

A Large Number of Prominent Men of Both Parties on the Way to New Orleans to Witness the Counting of the Votes.

WASHINGTON, November 11.—The President has requested the following prominent gentlemen to proceed to New Orleans to inspect the counting of the votes in Louisiana: Hon. W. M. Evarts, Hon. E. W. Stoughton, General John A. Dix and General James H. Van Alen, of New York; Senator Sherman, General Garfield and Hon. Stanley Matthews, of Ohio; Hon. Courtlandt Parker, of New Jersey; Senator Edmunds, of Vermont; General Ben. Harrison, of Indiana; Senator Logan, of Illinois; Hon. W. D. Kelley and Hon. John Schoenburg, of Pennsylvania, and Hon. J. A. Kasson, of Iowa. These and a few others have been invited, and affirmative answers have been received from nearly all.

DEMOCRATS GOING TO NEW ORLEANS.

The following named gentlemen are now en route to New Orleans, at the request of the National Democratic Committee: Governor Theodore S. Randolph, of New Jersey; ex-Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania; Judge Stallo, of Cincinnati; Hon. G. W. Julian, of Indiana; Governor Palmer, of Illinois; Hon. W. F. Coolbaugh, of Illinois; Senator Trumbull, of Illinois; Governor Carroll, of Maryland; Senator Hamilton, of Maryland; Governor McCreary, of Kentucky; Senator Stevenson, of Kentucky; Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin; Governor Smith, of Wisconsin; P. H. Watson, of Ohio, Professor Sumner, of Yale College; Senator Bogy, of Missouri; Hon. J. D. McHenry, of Kentucky; ex-Secretary of Navy Fox, of Boston; Hon. S. J. Randall, of Philadelphia; Governor Bigler, of Pennsylvania; Perry Smith, of Chicago; Mr. Gibson of St. Louis; Hon. Henry Watterson, of Louisville; Hon. W. F. Morrison, of Illinois; Hon. J. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi.

ST. LOUIS, November 11.—In compliance with an invitation, and at the urgent request of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Central Committee, Senator Bogy, James O. Brodhead, Erastus Wells and Charles Gibson, of this city, will start to-night for New Orleans, to be present at the counting of the vote of Louisiana.

LOUISVILLE, November 11.—Hon. Henry Watterson and Henry D. McHenry left for New Orleans last night. Senator McDonald and General Lane, of Indiana, Governor McCreery ex-Governor Palmer, of Illinois, and others are now here in answer to the call of Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, of New York. They leave for the South to-night.

BOSTON, November 11.—The Evening Traveller says Charles Francis Adams started for the South to-day.

TWEED AT ST. THOMAS.

The Franklin Arrived at St. Thomas on the 5th inst., and Sails for New York on the 8th.

HAVANA, November 11.—The French steamer from St. Thomas has arrived here, bringing advices to the 6th inst. On the 5th, the United States frigate Franklin, Commander Franklin, arrived at St. Thomas from Vigo, short of coal, with William M. Tweed on board.

It is impossible to obtain further particulars in regard to the United States steamer Franklin, as communication with St. Thomas is interrupted. The cables between Santiago de Cuba, Jamaica and St. Croix are broken. The steamer Investigator is engaged in grappling, and it is expected that the cable will be repaired in a few days.

SENATOR MORTON'S VIEWS.

He Does not Apprehend Serious Complications.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 11.—Senator Morton is in receipt of dispatches from the East, requesting his return to render assistance, in common with prominent men of both parties, in allaying the excitement over the elections. Senator Morton states that he will not return to the East until the conclusion of the investigation of the Chinese question, in which he is engaged here. He indorses the wisdom of the proposition to obtain the presence of prominent and trusted men of both parties to assist in allaying the present axcited feeling in the South, but expresses the belief that no serious complications will ensue, although the situation calls for prudent action.

WAR THREATENED.

[From the Lancaster Intelligencer, 10th.]

If Louisiana, counted for Hayes, should elect him, and nothing should occur to change the present impression of the Democracy that they have honestly carried the State, it is just positively certain that there would be a fight, and that if Hayes should be inaugurated it would be after his party had proven its superior physical power.

Petitions for the pardon of McKee and Avery have been favorably received, and are now in the hands of the President. They will most likely be signed to-morrow.

Governor Shepherd's Financial Affairs.

At a meeting of the creditors of Governor Shepherd, last night, the Governor presented a statement showing assets of $1,600,000 and liabilities $1,000,000.

No Harm in Kicking Up a Riot at a Republican Meeting.

BALTIMORE, November 11.—In the Criminal Court to-day, Judge Brown rendered his decision in the case of Lieutenant Farran, Sergent Sparks and Blackiston, and other policemen, who were recently indicted and on trial during the past week, for participating in the riot at a Hayes and Wheeler meeting at the Cross Street Market, in the Seventeenth ward, this city, in September last, acquitting them of the charge, and the prisoners were discharged. The trial was before the Judge without a jury. After the decision, the parties were all reinstated by the Police Commissioners.

The Disaster to the Whaling Fleet.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 11.—The Honolulu papers received by the Pacific mail steamer City of San Francisco contain the news of the arrival at Honolulu of the bark Three Brothers, with twelve men of the crews of the abandoned whaling fleet. The statements made by the masters of the Three Brothers and the Arctic, which are published in the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser, are corroborative of the story of those masters of abandoned vessels who reached this port.

Massachusetts Sustains the President.

NEW YORK, November 12.—Governor Rice, of Massachusetts, has sent the following from this city to President Grant at Washington: "The entire Republican and independent press of Massachusetts heartily sustains you in sending troops to the disputed States to preserve the public peace, and the people will as loyally abide by the result of the election when honestly determined. ALEXANDER H. RICE."

THE STRATHCLYDE DISASTER—THE CONVICTION OF THE MASTER OF THE FRANCONIA TO BE QUASHED.

LONDON, November 11.—In the case of the Queen against Keyn, master of the German steamer Franconia, which, while on her way to Havre, having touched at an English port and taken on board a pilot to take her down the channel, ran down the Strathclyde, an English vessel, within three miles of Dover, and thus caused the death of a number of persons, including several English subjects, the Lord Chief Justice of England, Right Hon. Sir Alexander James E. Cockburn, the Lord Chief Baron Right Hon. Sir Fitzroy Kelly, Mr. Justice Field, Mr. Justice Lush, Baron Pollock, Baron Bramwell and Sir R. Phillmore concur in quashing the conviction of Keyn, and Lord Coleridge, Mr. Justice Brett, Baron Amphlett, Mr. Justice Grove, Mr. Justice Denman and Mr. Justice Lindley, dissent. Judgment will be delivered by Lord Chief Justice Cockburn on Monday. As the decision turns exclusively on the question of jurisdiction it seems certain that the doctrine heretofore held of jurisdiction within three miles of the coast will be overturned.

DEATH OF AN EXPLORER.

LONDON, November 13.—A dispatch from Cairo to the Daily News announces that Freeman, who was exploring Central Africa with Lucas, died on October 5th, and his body will be brought to Cairo. Gordon has returned from the equator to Lado, en route for Khartoum.

HEAVY PURCHASE OF SILVER.

LONDON, November 13.—The Economist has the following: It is stated, directly or indirectly, that the United States Government has lately bought in London silver to the amount of a million dollars for coinage purposes.

The Eastern Complications.

CRITICISM OF LORD BEACONSFIELD'S RECENT SPEECH—THE CZAR AND THE TURKISH QUESTION—OPPOSITION TO RUSSIAN OCCUPATION OF BELGRADE.

VIENNA, November 11.—Reports from Turkish sources state that the Porte has raised several objections to the projected conference, and has instructed its London Ambassador to communicate them to Lord Beaconsfield. Lord Beaconsfield's assertion that all the Powers had assented to the conference is criticised in diplomatic circles, as the Vienna Cabinet has not yet accepted the proposition. Count Andrassy will state his views of the English proposal after the funeral of his mother, who has just died.

LONDON, November 11.—The following is the text of a speech delivered by the Czar at Moscow yesterday in reply to an address of the citizens: "I thank you for your sentiments respecting the political situation which is now more clearly defined than before. You know that Turkey has yielded to my demands for an immediate armistice to end the useless slaughter in Servia and Montenegro. In this unequal struggle the Montenegrins, as heretofore, have shown themselves real heroes. Unfortunately the same cannot be said of the Servians, notwithstanding the assistance of our volunteers, many of whom shed their blood for the Sclavonic cause. I know that all Russia joins me in warmly sympathizing in the sufferings of our brethren and co-religionists. The true interests of Russia are, however, dearer to me than all. My wish to the utmost is to spare Russian blood. Therefore I have striven, and will strive, to obtain a real improvement of the position of the Christians by peaceful means. In a few days negotiations will commence at Constantinople. My most ardent wish is that we may arrive at a general agreement; should this, however, not be achieved, and should I see that we cannot obtain guarantees necessary for what we intended to demand from the Porte, I am firmly determined to act independently. I am convinced that the whole of Russia will respond to my summons should I consider it necessary, and Russia's honor require it. Moscow will lead the van by its example. May God help us to carry out our sacred mission."

BELGRADE, November 11.—The Permanent Committee of the Servian Skupochtjina having protested against the projected garrisoning of Belgrade by a Russian brigade, Prince Milan has ordered the brigade to remain at Semendria. General Tchernayeff, it is stated, has been advised not to go to Russia, as his return there might complicate the political situation, which is now satisfactory.

BUCHAREST, November 11.—The Roumania Chamber of Deputies has approved a proposal to keep the reserve under arms beyond the period prescribed by law.

HOLLAND TO SUPPLY RUSSIA WITH MONEY.

LONDON, November 12.—Prince Ghiaka, of Roumania, has arrived in this city.

The Times' dispatch from Berlin says the Russian papers abound in warlike reports. It is rumored that Russia is likely to obtain in Holand advances of money upon a large amount of railway shares.

EFFECT OF THE CZAR'S SPEECH.

LONDON, November 12.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the Czar's speech has produced a most alarming impression in political circles there.

MOBILIZATION OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY—THE PORTE OPPOSES THE SCHEME FOR A CONFERENCE.

VIENNA, November 12.—The correspondent of the Times confirms the report that the mobilization of the Russian army will be ordered in a few days. He adds: Russia will send a note to the powers, which, it is said, will explain that as all the Powers have agreed about the reforms to be demanded of Turkey, Russia thinks there fulfillment only possible if she prepare to defend them.

The same correspondent mentions a rumor that the Porte has made representations in London against the scheme for a conference; that it is opposed to Constantinople being selected as the place of meeting, and to the inclusion of Bulgaria in the programme. The first of these objections can only refer to the preliminary meeting of representatives of the Powers, from which Turkey would be excluded.

TURKEY ENDEAVORING TO CREATE DISSENSIONS AMONG THE POWERS.

LONDON, November 13.—Various correspondents confirm the report that Turkey has raised objections to the conference proposal. The Times considers Turkey is thereby fruitlessly endeavoring to create dissensions among the European Powers.

A Vienna correspondent states that the Czar made his speech at Moscow, two hours after receiving a telegraphic dispatch of Lord Beaconsfield's speech at the Mansion House.

PLOTTING AGAINST THE KHEDIVE.

LONDON, November 12.—A Cairo dispatch says the Egyptian Minister of Finance endeavored to originate a plot against the Khedive by representing to the people that the Khedive, by accepting the reforms advocated by Mr. Goschen, was selling the country to the Christians. He was exiled to Dongola, and died while being escorted thither. A dispatch ascribes his death to excessive drinking.

THE EXTRADITION OF TWEED.

MADRID, November 12.—The matter of the extradition of William M. Tweed came up in the Cortes yesterday. The Minister of Foreign Affairs, in replying to the question, said the Spanish Government had authorized the extradition of Tweed as a return for similar courtesy displayed by the Government of the United States in similar cases.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT IF TRUE.

MADRID, November 13.—The mass said for the late Duchess of Aosta to-day was regarded as a simple tribute of respect, and not as a political demonstration. Five thousand persons of all parties and classes, including the leader of the Liberals, attended the ceremony. All wore mourning. Sagasta and Topete were present.

Counting the Electoral Vote.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

The questions which will soon arise in respect to counting the electoral vote should clearly be settled upon constitutional and legal grounds, irrespective of partisan bias, and in fidelity to the primary rights of the people—and of all the people—to a free and fair election, and with an unhesitating acquiescence by all parties in the properly recorded expression of the national will.

With this view it is not improper at this time to candidly consider the constitutional rights and powers of the two Houses of Congress, upon whom the duty of ascertaining and declaring that will is devolved, and to consider also the results legally possibly in the contingency of a contest between the two Houses, should such contingency arise.

Article 2, section 1. of the Constitution of the United States, provides for the appointment, by each State, of electors of President and Vice President "in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct."

Article 12 of the amendments to the Constitution provides that the electors "shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for President and Vice President;" that they shall "make a distinct list of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice President;" that they shall "sign and certify" these lists and transmit the same, sealed, to the seat of government of the United States, "directed to the President of the Senate." "The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for Presideni shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number [of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest number, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President."

These are the constitutional provisions down to the point of the election of President by the House of Representatives, in case that no person voted for as President by the electors is found, upon the count of the electoral vote, to have received the votes of "a majority of the whole number of electors appointed."

They are the general requirements of the Constitution in reference to the specific matters of the choice of electors; the meeting and balloting for President and Vice President; the signing, certification, sealing and transmission of the electoral lists; the opening of the certificates, and the count of the vote.

The methods by which these several requirements are to be complied with are the necessary subjects of proper legislative determination in part, and in part of the concurrent action of the two Houses of Congress.

In pursuance of its constitutional authority and power, Congress has enacted cetain laws to provide these methods, and to carry into effect the provisions of the Constitution in respect to the matters which precede the action of the two Houses regarding the count of the electoral vote.

The Revised Statues, Section 136, Title III., "Presidental elections," provides that "it shall be the duty of the Executive of each State to cause three lists of the names of the electors of each State to be made and certified, and to be delivered to the electors" on or before the day on which they are required to meet, which day, by Section 135, is fixed as the first Wednesday in December in every fourth year.

Section 134 provides that "when any State has held an election for the purpose of choosing electors, and has failed to make a choice on the day prescribed by law, the electors may be appointed on a subsequent day in such manner as the Legislature of such State may direct."

Other provisions in respect to the electors relate to the minor details of their proceedings.

Section 142 provides that "Congress shall be in session on the second Wednesday in February succeeding every meeting of the electors, and the certificates, or so many of them as have been received, shall then be opened, the votes counted, and the persons to fill the offices of President and Vice President ascertained and declared, agreeable to the Constitution."

The method of counting the electoral vote, and the proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives in reference thereto, have heretofore been prescribed by Rule 22 of the joint rules of the two Houses. No joint rules having been adopted by the first session of the present Congress, the method and proceedings in counting the electoral vote in February next, remain to be determined by the concurrent action and agreement of the Senate and House at the next session.

It has been superficially suggested that in the absence of joint rules the President of the Senate might, under the Constitution, open the certificates, and declare the result as found by such certificates, and that neither House can object to the reception or count of the vote of any State.

This view could only arise from an entire misapprehension of the constitutional provision, and of the powers of the two Houses and of the President of the Senate thereunder. The President of the Senate is required to open all the certificates "in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives." The performance of this duty concludes his independent powers under the Constitution. He is not made the judge of the authenticity or validity of the lists transmitted to or opened by him, nor has he any power to supersede the judgment or proceedings of the two Houses by his own arbitrary acts. He cannot count the vote, nor can he order a count or announce the result unless so directed, nor can he be instructed except by, or in pursuance of a joint rule or other concurrent action by the two Houses.

The two Houses being equal, each House must, and certainly will, determine for itself all questions which may arise which have not previously been made the subject of an agreement by concurrence. Unless both Houses agree upon any such question, and until they so agree, the joint convention cannot proceed to definitive action.

The twenty-second joint rule provided for submitting to each House separately, for its decision, without debate, all questions arising in regard to counting the vote, and that no question should be decided affirmatively, and that no vote objected to should bo counted, except by the concurrent votes of the two Houses.

The suspension or abrogation of this rule does not take from either House any power previously possessed under the rule. The power of either House to decide all questions separately was not derived from the rule, but from the equal power of the two Houses which the rule recognized but did not create. The same power exists without, as with the rule. The power of either House to object to the count of any vote and to refuse to count any vote, is derived from the same authority, and exists in like manner notwithstanding the suspension of the rule. The power to object to, or to refuse to count, any vote, is a power inherant in the two Houses under the constitutional requirement that the vote be "counted," and by virtue of the necessities of the case, and it cannot be surrendered by either House without a violation of the highest obligation imposed equally upon both.

The counting of a vote does not alone consist in reading certain names and figures and in ascertaining the arithmetical total of numbers, but in determining also the genuineness and authority of the certificates presented and, to this end, the regularity and validity of all prior proceedings which culminated in the presentation of any such certificate. In other words, before a vote can be counted it is necessary to ascertain whether the vote offered to be counted is such a vote as is entitled to be counted.

Such determination is a necessary incident to the count; and no power to make such determination exists under the Constitution elsewhere than in the two Houses of Congress. And there is no constitutional or other requirement that the two Houses should agree upon any question that may arise, or upon the count or rejection of any vote. Of course they must agree before there can be a declaration of the vote. If they do not agree there can be no declaration. That is all.

It may be urged that it is the province of the State Executives to determine who have been chosen electors, and that the two Houses have nothing to do except to receive and count such votes as may be transmitted by the electors whose appointment has been certified to by such Executives.

The province of the State Executives in the premises is defined by statute, not by the Constitution. The duty of certifying the lists of electors is a duty imposed upon them by Congress; it is not a power which, under existing laws, can be exercised independent of Congress. The proper discharge of this duty, as an initiatory proceeding, may aid Congress to determine the votes which are entitled to be counted. It could not be held that Congress must be bound by the result of an improper execution of such duty, or that Congress is stopped from judging whether the service it enjoins has been rightfully or wrongfully performed, or performed by persons rightfully or wrongfully exercising the executive function.

Otherwise the nation would have no protection against fraudulent certificates, nor against forcible usurpation of State authority, or revolutionary proceedings in the several States subversive of the right of the people to a legal and peaceable election.

The power of the two Houses to reject the vote of a State, for cause, has never been authoritatively denied, but has, on the contrary, been substantially exercised on several occasions, and at different periods, since the adoption of the Constitution.

But can either House alone reject the vote of a State? Either House acting separately, and not in concurrence with the other, can neither admit nor reject. In case of a disagreement between the two Houses, nothing can be done. The joint convention fails to determine the result of the election. Practically, no election has been held.

The same result follows if either House refuses to go into convention for the purpose of counting the vote. There is no power which can compel the two Houses to go into convention.

But the election of a President does not then, or in either case, devolve upon the House of Representatives.

If the two Houses fail to agree upon a joint rule to govern their proceedings in convention, or if they fail to agree upon the question of the rejection of a vote, or upon any other material question which may arise in convention, or if they fail to go into convention, the count of the vote fails, and no person can be declared elected. In such case a vacancy occurs in the offices of both President and Vice President on the fourth of March following. Provision is made for such contingency by section 147 of the Revised Statutes, viz.

"When the offices of President and Vice President both become vacant, the Secretary of State shall forthwith cause a notification thereof to be made to the Executive of every State, and shall also cause the same to be published in at least one of the newspapers published in each State."

Section 148 provides the time when electors shall again be appointed or chosen, which, in the foregoing contingency, would be within thirty-four days preceding the first Wednesday in December following.

In case of a vacancy so occuring, neither the President of the Senate nor the Speaker of the House of Representatives, since the vacancy would not have occurred through "the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice President," but from the legal expiration of the term of office for which they were elected.

The Government would not, however, therefore lapse, nor would a condition of anarchy necessarily ensue. The Executive branch of the Government would continue to be administered by the heads of the several Executive Departments, whose tenure of office, (except as to the Postmaster General) is not limited by law; and who do not retire at the end of a Presidential term, except by voluntary resignation, or under the operations of the Tenure-of-office Act. They would therefore continue in office until the vacancy in the offices of President and Vice President should be filled by a subsequent election.

The attempt of the House of Representatives to elect a President, in event of the failure of the two Houses to agree in the count of the electoral vote, or in the event of the refusal of either House to go into convention for the purpose of counting the electoral vote, would be clearly revolutionary, and any such pretended election would be illegal and void.

The right of election devolves upon the House of Representatives in one case only; when no candidate has a "majority" of the votes of the whole number of electors. If there is a failure to count the electoral vote, the question of majority has not been determined, and therefore the House cannot constitutionally proceed to an election.

The Way the Thing Stands.

[From the New York Times of yesterday.]

No news has been received which warrant the slightest change in our table of States which have cast their votes for the Republican candidates. Dispatches from Democratic sources all but give up South Carolina by reducing the claim for Tilden's majority to about 100. The preposterous absurdity of figuring like this on returns which have not been received, is too obvious for comment. South Carolina will probably be given up by the Democrats in their next dispatch. The State has never been doubtful on the basis of returns actually received, and Democratic papers have never honestly believed that it was. Florida remains where it did—certain, according to trustworthy returns, for the Republicans. In regard to Louisiana the same fabricated returns are given out which have been current during the last day or two. The nature of these can be judged of from the fact that a Democratic majority of 4,046 is claimed from the parishes of Avoyelles, East and West Feliciana, Morehouse and Ouachita, which gave in 1874 a Republican majority of 3,202, and in 1872 a majority of 4,144. The seven parishes set down as "estimated" cannot by any possibility have been heard from at all. On a fair and free election, Louisiana is good for a Republican majority of 30,000. There is no evidence whatever that Democratic violence and intimidation have reduced the natural majority of the State below 8,000.

WE SHALL hear doubtless during to-day if South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida have declared for Hayes, that they have declared for him by fraud. But this declaration should be made in low whispers. Not one single Southern State has Samuel J. Tilden carried in the late election that has not been carried by fraud, excepting Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia and Kentucky. He has carried no Northern State fairly. Indiana went for him by repeaters in October, and again in November. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey all took the same course by the same influences. And when the General Government, under the great enforcement act, protected three or four Southern States by means of the army, it effected two objects—one of duty and the other of retribution. If Governor Hayes has been chosen President it is but an act of justice to the loyal men of the North and of rescue to the mistaken men of the South. It will secure to the first free ingress and free thought, free opinion, free education and a free press, and it will teach the latter that the best friends of the South are the generous and enlightened people of the old free States.—Philadelphia Press.

William M. Ingersoll, of St. Catherine, Ontario, was arrested in Buffalo on Saturday, for stealing about $2,300 in cash, the property of the Welland Railroad Company. The money was found in his possession.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1876.

THE man who thinks or suggests a resort to violence, whatever the result of the election, is a traitor to his country.

THE latest dispatches from Government officers in the disputed States concur in claiming a decided Republican victory in all of them.

THE leaders of the great ballot-box stuffing Democratic party are rushing toward Louisiana, trembling at the triumph of a justice which will wither their last scheme.

TILDEN characterizes Tammany as "the right wing of Democracy." There is not a doubt of it. Tammany is composed of as desperate a gang of public freebooters as ever went unhung.

WITH a fair count, RUTHEFORD B. HAYES has unquestionably been elected President of the United States. If so, he will be inaugurated, just as certainly as ABRAHAM LINCOLN was.

THE exports from Baltimore last week fell slightly under those of the previous week, amounting to $549,352, against $617,718. This is accounted for by the meager shipments of petroleum.

ORDERS have been sent to certain unscrupulous parties in Chicago to proceed at once to Wisconsin and "doctor" the returns, if possible. This shows that TILDEN is reduced to a most desperate strait.

THE Indianapolis Journal truly remarks that it comes with a poor grace from Democrats to be making charges of contemplated fraud in the counting of votes. Theirs has been a campaign of fraud from the beginning.

THE total vote cast in Allegheny county last Tuesday was nearly 49,000. The highest vote before was in 1872, when the total reached 44,000. Cook county, in which Chicago is situated, polls 76,000, and Hamilton county, Ohio, including Cincinnati, 56,000.

WHETHER they have won or lost, HAYES and WHEELER have the satisfaction of knowing that never once did they lower their standards to curry popular favor, or issue manifestoes to win votes. They took a dignified position at the beginning of the contest and adhered firmly to it to the last.

WHILE we do not absolutely claim the election of Governor HAYES, we still pin our faith to that one vote, and it is not impossible that North Carolina may swell his electoral majority to eleven votes. The mountain districts of the Old North State are rolling in some heavy Republican majorities.

AN ADVANCE statement of the earnings of nineteen Western and Southern railroad companies for the month of October, shows that these amounted to $5,408,294, against $54,451,640 for the same month last year. The same roads show an increase in earnings from the 1st of January to the 31st of October of $3,314,037.

ALLEGHENY gives HAYES 9,481 majority, which is very near what she gave LINCOLN and GRANT. Whatever may betide the Republicans of the country, at large, they cannot say that old Allegheny did not do her duty nobly. Her majority is that of a State, and it overtops that of any other county in the Union, except Philadelphia.

THERE is nothing extraordinary or unusual in the lack of decisive returns from the States put down still as "doubtful" and claimed by both parties. In 1872 clearly indicative returns from Oregon, Nevada, Florida, South Carolina, Arkansas and Tennessee were not received until the Monday after the election; nor decisive returns from these States even then.

A CONSIDERABLE portion of the Democratic press is now trying to stir up the idle, vicious and incendiary element of the country to revolt against the laws, and demand that the House of Representatives shall take charge of the electoral votes of the respective States next winter, and revise and purge them to suit the wishes of the Democratic majority in that body.

WHEN asked directly which candidate he preferred, and he answered HAYES, General SHERMAN probably entertained the notion that he had as much right to express his preference as any other American citizen. The Richmond Dispatch, however, is exceedingly savage, and says: "A very unworthy commander of the national armies is this General SHERMAN. He ought to command an army of negroes."

IT is to be hoped the country has now heard the last of CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. After enjoying the honors which the Republican party has bestowed upon him, he has displayed the most signal ingratitude and treachery, and it is a source of unfeigned satisfaction to know that Democrats spat upon him after he had prostrated his body in the dust to afford a bridge for them to pass over to the haven of office and spoils.

THE Troy Whig of Wednesday had the following:

> As had been predicted, the news of the probability of Tilden's election had the most depressing effect upon our manufacturers and business men generally. At the Albany and Rensselaer Steel Works notice was posted informing their monthly employees that the works would close December 1st for an indefinite period. All day laborers are to be discharged on Friday of this week.

ONE of the Democratic "Peace Commissioners" selected by the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee to proceed to New Orleans and watch the counting of the votes of that State for President, is Governor CARROLL, of Maryland, who himself was elected to the office which he now fills by frauds more shameless than any that ever were perpetrated in the South either before or since the reconstruction period.

HOPKINS says, we understand, that we have gained nothing by his defeat, as it will serve only to make him Governor in 1878. It may have the effect to make him the Democratic nominee for Governor in 1878, if that party is hunting for a defeated Congressman for a candidate; but the Republicans of Pennsylvania will have something to say as to the result of the election, and they would just as soon defeat HOPKINS as any one else.

WE publish this morning a long article from the Washington Chronicle, evidently written by a lawyer, upon the subject of counting the electoral vote. It seems to us exhaustive of the subject, and the article will well repay perusal. It presents the case in all the aspects it is likely to assume, and its conclusions, from the writer's standpoint, are apparently impregnable. In the midst of the many speculations on the subject, it is well enough to get hold of an argument that states the matter clearly and opens up fairly the consequences that may flow from possible as well as probable complications.

THE end of our Indian troubles is foreshadowed by the visit of sixty Indian chiefs from the various Sioux tribes, to the Indian Territory, west of Arkansas, to examine and report upon the country to which it is proposed to remove the whole tribe. The Territory is large enough to hold all the Indians in the Republic and support every Indian luxuriously. It is a prairie region with no mountain retreats, and natural fortresses, and once established there they will be compelled to remain at peace. It is not requisite to await until SITTING BULL comes to terms. The policy pursued with the Seminoles was to remove all who were willing to go, and so in the present case the Sioux will be removed as they can be reached. In the end they will all go; and meanwhile the power of such chiefs as SITTING BULL will be broken. The reservations being abolished, he and the other recusants will have no resource to fall back upon; and the Sioux in their new quarters, would probably do as well as the Chickasaws, Choctaws, Seminoles and Cherokees have done before them. Forced to earn their own living by the pursuit of agriculture they will in time become as useful as they are now useless.

SOLDIERS' DISCHARGES.

We are frequently appealed to for information as to the steps necessary where a soldier's discharge paper has been lost, mislaid, burned or otherwise destroyed; but we had no idea, until reading the following, which we clip from an exchange, that there was so little care taken of these valuable papers by many of their owners:

> A movement has recently been inaugurated by the General Government looking to the gathering up of all soldiers' discharge certificates not now in the hands of the rightful owners, with a view to having them lodged in the War Office at Washington, as a measure of protection to the interests of the soldiers as well as to the Government. In pursuance of this plan the Government agents have recently been, and are at present at work in New York an other large cities, gathering statistics relating to papers of this character, locating them where they are massed in quantities and, in some cases, obtaining tolerably accurate invoices of the numbers and the names of the parties to whom they were originally issued.
> The importance of such a measure is apparent when it is understood that a soldier's discharge certificate is, in one sense, a draft issued in advance upon the Treasury, it being the document of all others required by the Government officers in the settlement of claims made by the soldier or his heirs for back pay, clothing, bounty or pension money, and the only paper upon which a claim of this character can be properly based.
> It is estimated that there are in New York city upward of fifty thousand soldiers' discharge certificates that are not in possession of the rightful owners. They have been gathered from all parts of the State, and some of them have been brought from longer distances. Other metropolitan centers possess them in about an equal ratio, swelling the aggregate number in all parts of the country to hundreds of thousands. Every one of these papers can be made the base of a fictitious and fraudulent claim against the Government when presented by unprincipled parties having no rights of ownership in them whatsoever. In the hands of the brave and resolute men who shouldered the musket and carried the knapsack over every battlefield these papers would be secure from any fraud or attempted fraud. The trouble is that the soldier is liable to lose, and in thousands of instances they have lost their discharge papers. In other instances they have died leaving no heirs, and the discharge certificates have fallen into the hands of men who have not hesitated to use them for fraudulent purposes. This has been carried to such an extent as to render the subject one of serious thought upon the part of the Government officers, and the movement looking to the bringing such papers into the custody of the United States has been the result. Once lodged in the War Office, they will forever cease to be the instruments of fraud in the hands of others.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The law provides for three return sheets; one for the box, one for the Prothonotary's office, and one for public inspection to be sent to the Prothonotary. Every year there are a few election officers so careless as to inclose the last named with the other papers and seal them up so that they are inaccessible. Last year we had the same annoyance. This year the stupidity was repeated, and all the papers have been greatly inconvenienced in getting returns to publish. It seems astonishing that election officers can be so dumb and inefficient in the face of the plainest provisions of the law, and the explicit directions furnished to them by the County Commissioners. We notice that, in Philadelphia, every year, some one has to go into court and complain of the blunders of election officers in making returns. There seems to be a terrible facility on the part of some of them to go wrong, and if there is any possibility of getting the returns mixed up, there is always some one sure to find it out.

IN THE State of New York the management of the Republican campaign was signally weak and inefficient, if it was not even treacherous. There was no intelligent direction of affairs, but what was done was due to individual effort. There was no organization seeking to unite and harmonize individual effort for the accomplishment of a common object, no attempt to arouse public enthusiasm in behalf of the Republican ticket. Assembly, district and ward organizations were formed, as is usual, but they managed their affairs independent of each other, and wholly with a view to influencing local nominations. Both CONKLING and CORNELL went into the sulks on account of the action of the National and State Committees, respectively, and both hung like a wet blanket on the campaign from the start. CORNELL was chosen Chairman of the State Committee out of compliment to his candidacy for Governor, and because he had previously held the position. He had not the good sense to decline a nomination which was intended as a mere compliment to be declined, but accepted the appointment, and then sat down on the committee. The New York correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing two days before the election, said:

> Expecting to be the candidate for Governor, Mr. Cornell sought to reconcile the temperance interest to his nomination, and was "colloguing" with the anti-Tammany element. But the moment Mr. Cornell was left out in the cold, that moment he presented the cold shoulder to the temperance people, to the anti-Tammany men, and to all others whose friendship he had previously courted. It is within my personal knowledge that Mr. Cornell discouraged leading temperance men from taking an active part in the campaign, and also that he refused the co-operation of some of the Greenback party, which he might have had for a few courteous words. It has been apparent to those who have seen the inside workings of the State Committee that the defeat of Governor Morgan would be highly satisfactory to both Senator Conkling and Mr. Cornell. The Senator fears that Morgan may contest his claim to a perpetual seat in the Senate, while Cornell is angry at Morgan's having beaten him in the State Convention. Consequently, Conkling has sulked in his tent at home, while Cornell has sat upon the State Committee like a fearful nightmare, paralyzing its efforts and performing the role of a very wet blanket. Mr. Conkling has pleaded sickness and private business. He did get out to make one speech, at Utica, where he dare not refuse to go when called, but this constitutes his sole work in behalf of the Republican party this fall. Even that speech gave rise to much criticism from the fact that unable to swallow his chagrin at his own defeat, he had scarcely a word to say in behalf of Governor Hayes. He did, however, begin a most unpalatable eulogy of the present Administration, characterizing General Grant in terms that he might have applied to Deity itself. After all the honors the Republican party has heaped upon Roscoe Conkling he should rather have died in harness than to have turned his back upon it in an emergency, as he has done.

THE financial value of a fine sense of national honor is shown by the comments of the leading foreign journals on the probable effect of the election—should it prove to result in favor of TILDEN—on the credit of the United States. The London Times, after elaborately reviewing the situation on the supposition that TILDEN is elected, advises its readers that there is no ground for lack of confidence in our financial future. The Daily News regards the payment of our national debt as secure, and the Standard is certain that there will be no injurious change as the result of the election. These opinions are but the reflection of the confidence felt in financial circles, the world over, as to the future of American securities. The bankers of the world believe in the United States; believe in the honesty and integrity of the people, not less than in our material prosperity, which will give the ability to pay every dollar we owe. There is not, as the Boston Bulletin puts it, "another nation on the face of the earth where such a political revolution as we have experienced this week would not have caused violent fluctuations in government securities."

WHY this rush to Louisiana, from all parts of the country, on the part of leading Democrats? What have they to do with the result in that State? Is not Louisiana a "sovereign" State, able to manage her own affairs in her own way? Are the returns of an "independent" State to be manipulated by Tammany ballot-box stuffers and other Democratic experts in election swindles? And if this is not the mission of these Democratic leaders, what takes them to New Orleans in such a hurry? Do they need to be assured that the people of the country will not stand tamely by and see themselves swindled out of the electoral vote of that or any other State? If TREVANION must die, then three million of muscular men will know the reason why. Better keep your hands off, gentlemen. On this point the Chicago Tribune well says:

> It was reported last evening that General Corse, of this city, had gone to New Orleans to assist in "correcting" the count in Louisiana. There is inflammable material enough already in New Orleans without any contributions from the Northern Democracy, whose presence there cannot possibly do any good and may do a great deal of harm. If General Corse has no other errand he should stay at home and patiently await the result. This flocking southward of Tildenites from the North looks like an attempt to gain by intimidation and force that which was lost at the ballot-box, and if Democrats rush to the rescue, why not Republicans as well? The result of the election in Louisiana can be determined without Northern interference, and General Corse and everybody else will do well to keep at home and mind their own business.

BOTH Governor CHAMBERLAIN and Senator PATTERSON express absolute confidence that South Carolina has gone Republican. At all polling places near which there were no troops, Senator PATTERSON asserts that the Democrats polled large numbers of votes from repeaters who came over the line. The fraudulent majorities in these border counties, it has been hoped by the Democrats, might give HAMPTON a chance of success, but Governor CHAMBERLAIN says there is no doubt that, conceding all that the Democrats claim for these counties, the Republicans still have the State by 10,000 majority; without conceding, the Republicans claim to have a majority of 20,000. The law relative to the counting of the votes is very severe and strict. It was enacted at the time of the Ku-Klux troubles, and was designed to give the ballot-box the utmost possible protection. On the day of election local election officers count the votes and make a certificate of the returns. The ballots are sealed in their boxes, and the certificate of returns is sealed in a separate package. There is no official copy kept of it. These are returned to the County Election Commissioners. These commissioners canvass the vote, listen to charges of irregularity, and correct them. Their special duty is to see whether the certificates of the returns agree with the number and character of the votes in the boxes. The commissioners transmit the certificate with their comments to the State Board of Canvassers, retaining themselves the ballot boxes. The return of the County Canvassers is generally considered official, but it is not final till after its examination and approval by the State Board of Canvassers. The latter have the right to supervise the entire count, and to send for the ballot boxes if necessary. The County Canvassers will canvass the county returns tomorrow. Until then the exact official result will not be known. Any announced official returns before that time must be made up from private memoranda, which are not official. The State Board of Canvassers will not commence their canvass before next Monday, until which time the formal official announcement of the result in South Carolina will not be made.

THE recent litigation between Southern and Northern life insurance companies to reinstate the policies which were forfeited for non-payment of premiums during the war has drawn attention to the fact that in the event of a war between the United States and England life insurance contracts might be endangered. The Canadian agents opposed to American companies have been quick to see the advantage of this point in soliciting risks, though they have injured the business of our companies but slightly. As the Americans do by far the largest life insurance business in the Dominion, the rival local and English companies are eager to seize upon any advantage which a discussion of the effect of the war upon life contracts might give them. The New York correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says that to put a quietus upon this question, the New York and Equitable Life have each entered into a special arrangement with their Canadian policy-holders, whereby, in the event of a war between the two countries, the Canada policies will in no wise be imperiled. It is provided that in such an event premiums may be paid as usual at the companies' offices in Montreal, whose receipts therefor, countersigned by two resident trustees, shall continue the liability of the companies in the same manner as if the premiums were paid at the companies' offices in New York. This is a complete estoppel upon the lies of Canadian rivals that policies in American companies would be worthless in case of war.

THERE is not the slightest doubt that on a full and fair vote of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, all of these States are decisively Republican, and that if the Democrats have carried either one of them, it has been done by terrorism, violence and fraud. According to the census of 1870 the population of these States stood:

| | White. | Colored. |
| South Carolina | 289,667 | 415,814 |
| Louisiana | 362,065 | 364,210 |

It is thus shown that in South Carolina and Louisiana the blacks outnumbered the whites, while in Florida they fell but little short. But in addition to the colored vote there is a considerable white Republican vote in each of these States. The white Republican vote of Louisiana may be fairly estimated at 15,000, and that of Florida and South Carolina at 10,000 each. It is evident, therefore, that on anything like a fair vote and honest count all three of these States are decidedly Republican. And their later votes confirm this view. In 1872 South Carolina gave 49,587 majority for GRANT, Florida gave him 2,336 majority, and Louisiana 14,634, while in 1874 South Carolina elected a Republican Governor by 11,589 majority. In 1872 Florida elected a Republican Governor by 1,599 majority, and in 1874 gave 1,054 Republican majority for Congressmen. Hence, an honest canvass in those States will certainly show majorities for HAYES, unless intimidation and murder have kept back the colored voters from the polls.

THE Indianapolis Journal says:

> We are informed that Mr. James B. Ryan, in a speech last evening, said that he had telegraphed to the Democratic State Central Committee of Louisiana that there were a half million men in the North who would stand by them [the Louisiana Democrats], in their effort to force a majority for Tilden and Hendricks, if the official declaration should give the vote of the State to Hayes and Wheeler. This is about the gist and meaning of the speech. Mr. Ryan's bluster and vaporing amount to a puff of breath, and that is all. The vote of Louisiana will be accepted as the legal returning officers show it, whether it be for Hayes or Tilden. The Southern rebels heard about that "half million" men in 1861. They will not rely upon Northern Democratic doughfaces now. They know how valiant they are in peace and how cowardly in war. Making faces at a great nation may be pleasant pastime for such ardent patriots as James B. Ryan, but it don't throw the nation into convulsions to any alarming extent.

Which is all very true; but it may be well for all such blowhards as this RYAN to learn at once that there are a million of men ready to choke their half million the minute they try any such game.

THE decrease in the value of real estate has nowhere been so great as in the city of New York. A journal of that city states that prices, values and rents of property have collapsed to such extent that the depreciation amounts to a fall of from forty to fifty per cent.; that few of the costly business structures erected during the era of inflation would now be valued at over sixty per cent. of their actual cost, and some of them would not bring even that. This is accounted for by the fact that New York was the center of the inflation bubble, and that speculation ran to a greater hight in that city than anywhere else; yet what is said of costly business structures there will apply with nearly equal force to other cities. Money was spent upon this class of buildings much more lavishly than upon the more moderate class, and the latter, consequently, are now paying the best because of their lesser cost. The buildings themselves are an ornament to the cities in which they are placed, and no one need regret their erection except those who will fail to realize from them as much as there were led to expect.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

Our fathers' God to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we pray;
Long may our land be bright,
With freedom's holy light,
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our Stay.

If!

Keep cool!

What a squeeze!

This suspense is distracting.

Now you see it; now you don't.

The Great American Uncertainty.

The meanest kind of pence: suspense.

Bought wit is the best if you do not pay too dear for it.

Never was the importance of one vote so forcibly illustrated as in this contest.

The new shade is "antique purple." It is about the tint of an election eye two days old.

The newsboys have been the greatest gainers by the prolonged period of political excitement.

More pork and beef will emigrate from the United States this coming season than ever before.

Business all over the country is paralyzed by the election excitement. There ought to be relief very soon.

Senator Ferry, of Michigan, President of the Senate, bids fair to become a very import factor in this country's history.

Rumors of Fenian raids continue, and the Dominion military officials are making every preparation for any emergency which may arise.

The Illinois State Journal learns that Tilden intends adding a new quartering to his coat of arms, an orange tree in full bloom, blighted by a sudden frost.

No more excuses for staying out nights now, for the ward club is disbanded, the torchlight processions over, the pools closed and the banner raising done away with.

The suggestion that the attempt to steal the bones of the martyr Lincoln was made by persons opposed to the cause in which he was a martyr, is greeted by a rebel yell.

The latest effort to prevent the admission of New Mexico as a State takes the form of an organization of the old Mexican element against the ascendancy of the Americans.

The sugar crop of Louisiana is estimated at 290,000 hogsheads, and this is said to be equal to only about one-eighth of the amount required for consumption in the United States.

Scottish theology is still as unprogressive as ever, and believes as firmly that bad weather and poor crops are signs of the displeasure of Providence as it did in the seventeenth century.

Evils are more to be dreaded from the suddenness of their approach than from their greatness or their duration, and they will be the more insufferable in proportion as they find us unprepared.

The Japanese Centennial Commission has made the handsome gift to the city of Philadelphia of the dwelling and garden of Japanese design, which has been on exhibition upon the Centennial grounds.

The national debts of the civilized world amounted in 1875 to £4,568,000,000, or $22,940,000,000. If municipal indebtedness be added to this stupendous amount, the aggregate would no doubt be swelled to $24,000,000,000.

Turkey now musters an armor-clad fleet of fifteen vessels, mounting 127 Armstrong guns, and of 31,660 horse-power, without counting two more vessels nearly finished, two building, and a vast number of other fighting crafts, monitors, etc.

California farmers are directing more attention and effort to irrigation, and relying less on the uncertain rainfall, as a means of watering their crops. One good soaking of a wheat field where the plants are about six inches high is all that is required to insure a yield of thirty bushels to the acre.

Although the total railroad mileage of the British Empire, 66,000 miles, is below our own, it is sufficiently near to show us that if we accept the advice of the croakers and stop building railroads the British Empire will soon be ahead of us. India has about 6,500 miles of active railroad in use and 3,000 more projected.

Euphony. The Boyd county (Ky.) Democrat mentions the following named places, mostly in Eastern Kentucky: Seed Lick, Rabbit-hash, Pinchemslily, Rackbackdavy, Dog's Tail creek, Tickle Breeches' run, Lick Ridge, Old Brother, Steep Gut, etc. In Floyd county, three small streams entering the Sandy are called, respectively, Bull, Cow and Calf.

There is an act of Congress requiring brewers to use two and a half bushels of malt to every barrel of beer, and under this act, says the Baltimore American, Mr. Robert M. Proud, Internal Revenue Collector, in December, 1875, collected from John Bauerschmidt, the brewer, a stamp tax of $426 12 for using more than the stipulated amount of malt to the barrel. Mr. Bauerschmidt contended through his counsel, Judge Gleeson, that the malt used was filthy and inferior in other respects, so that the quantity used was not really in excess of two and a half bushels per barrel in strength. Judge Gleeson appealed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, who ordered the Collector to refund the money.

PERSONAL.

A Georgia schoolmaster announces that he will be obliged to close his school unless the young men of the district limit their courting of his young lady pupils to three nights in the week.

It is now reported in a certain circle in England that Arthur Orton has been found alive in Australia, and that a survivor of the Bella has also been found. This may lead to more Tichborne litigation.

A Vemont horse jockey traded horses nine times in one day at Rutland, and at night had the same horse with which he started in the morning, $45 in money, a watch worth $25, a double-barreled shot gun and four bushels of potatoes.

Mary L. Smith sued Peter Mullon, a Brooklyn florist, for attempting to kiss her. She claimed $5,000 damages; and on Thursday a jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff in the full amount. Mary, Mary, quite contrary, you can now have a garden of your own and grow your own flowers.

The death of the Duchess of Aosta is announced at San Remo. For a few months with her husband Amadeus she occupied the throne of Spain, and it was one of the current reports of Italy that her ambition led him to accept the troublous Spanish crown at the hands of General Prim. The Duchess was a young woman at her death, in her twenty-ninth year, and was of the princely house of Cistema, her mother being a countess of Merode.

One more knave, sailing under American colors, has been sent to Conventry by the English courts for playing upon the confidence of amiable people in that island. Charles Howard by name, Count von Howard, Herr von Howard-Seefeld, and various other names for convenience, according to the place of his operations, was lately detected in a novel kind of swindling, the basis of which was a last will drawn in favor of the intended victim, of which the swindler professed to have exclusive knowledge. Two respectable gentlemen were taken in by this romantic device, and cheerfully paid over the money demanded, $2,000 each, before seeing the promised will.

The "materializing" humbug has about received its quietus. The Eddy brothers, of Vermont, who were among the pioneers in the deception alluded to, were exposed and retired from business; the Katie King delusion was exploded; and now a Mrs. Hunteen, a sister of the Eddy brothers, has met with an accident at one of her seances, which will probably deter her from again appearing in public unless she has more than ordinary assurance. It was at Webster, Massachusetts, a few nights ago that she came to grief, and at the hands of one of her own sex. She was exhibiting the incorporeal form of Mrs. Flint, whose daughter was present. The latter was incredulous, however, and at a particular juncture in the performance tightly grasped the arms of the supposed spirit. The gas was turned on, when "Mrs. Flint" was found to be none other than Mrs. Hunteen. It is about time similar pretenders were arrested in their silly business.

POLITICAL.

The "reform" party will not fail to notice that just as soon as it became evident that the Presidential election might hinge on South Carolina and Florida, Magone, the private special utility man of Mr. Tilden, started post-haste for those States to help manipulate the count. At the same time White Liners and Ku Kluxers began making raids on the ballot-boxes and canvassers. This shows that the Democrats knew they were beaten in those States. The ditching of the train bearing election returns in Florida, the destruction of the track and the cutting of the telegraph, was part of a characteristic Democratic plan to delay the official count until the returns could be "cooked" and manipulated to meet the requirements of the case. All this, be it remembered, is done by and in the interest of the party which professes to embody the spirit of "reform." The outrage, the defiance of law, the appeal to force is on the side of the Democrats, as it has always been. In the whole South we fail to hear of a single case in which a Democrat was intimidated or restrained in his right on election day, a single case in which a Federal soldier interposed the slightest obstacle to the freedom of any voter, white or black, for voting for whom he pleased. This, of course, is only what was expected by every sensible man. The howl about "bayonet interference with the ballot-box" was the cheapest and most transparent clap trap of the campaign. It was used only by those who knew that the Southern Democrats could win only by driving the colored Republicans from the polls, and who feared that the presence of the troops might prevent intimidation and secure a fair vote. It is a pity that some of the troops could not have been on the Florida train and picked up the Ku-Kluxers who tore up the rails and wrecked the cars.—Cleveland Leader.

Stand back, Doughfaces! We mean you timorous half-hearted Republicans who having voted for Hayes are whispering to each other in corners that perhaps in view of the terrible violence of the Democrats it would be better if threatened dangers could be averted by letting the count of Florida or some other Republican State be diverted from Hayes by peaceful acquiescence in Democratic fraud. Stand back, we say, and let your coward heads slink into retirement. It was you and such as you who by cringing and pleading "submission before coercion" taught an arrogant South to believe the north a section of whining cubs to be bullied into consenting to their every decree. It was you and such as you who stayed at home professing loyalty and wondering when the army would move. It was you and such as you who joined in the defamation of honest men who took brains and capital to rejuvinate the impoverished South. Stand back, we say, and let your tongue palsy before you bring to the name of Republican the shame of paltry fear. To-day we are uncertain upon whom will fall the choice of the electoral college. If it be Tilden every true man will bend his energies to proving that we are a nation of law-abiding people. If it be Hayes all the roaring and raging of untamed rebels and the snarling and howling of their disloyal allies shall not interfere with the full fruition of the people's verdict.—Philadelphia North American.

E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron.

This truly valuable tonic has been so thoroughly tested by all classes of the community that it is now deemed indispensable as a Tonic medicine. It costs but little, purifies the blood and gives tone to the stomach, renovates the system and prolongs life. Everybody should have it. For the cure of Weak Stomachs, General Debility, Indigestion, Diseases of the Stomach, and for all cases requiring a tonic. This wine includes the most agreeable and efficient salt of Iron we possess—Citrate of Magnetic Oxide, combined with the most energetic of vegetable tonics—Yellow Peruvian Bark.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If you do, try KUNKEL'S BITTER WINE OF IRON.

I only ask a trial of this valuable tonic.

Beware of counterfeits, as Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron is the only sure and effectual remedy in the known world for the permanent cure of Dyspepsia and Debility, and as there are a number of imitations offered to the public, I would caution the community to purchase none but the genuine article, manufactured by E. F. Kunkel, and having his stamp on the cork of every bottle. The very fact that others are attempting to imitate this valuable remedy, proves its worth and speaks volumes in its favor. Sold only in $1 bottles. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

"STAR" BRAND!
Live Goose Feathers!
[TRADE MARK PATENTED.]

I take this opportunity of bringing to your favorable notice my 'STAR' brand of No. 1 FEATHERS.

After handling feathers for some time with conscientious care, and obtaining some reputation for the quality of my goods, I found, to protect myself from the limitations of less scrupulous dealers, that it was necessary to adopt some brand to distinguish them from all others packed in this city. I took for this brand a STAR and have branded it on the sacks containing my goods for some years past.

The consuming public, who are the best judges of true merit and of their own wants, have passed the verdict that the Star Brand Feathers are the best in the market. In this vicinity the wholesale and retail dealers have been compelled to procure them for their customers.

Wherever introduced, my brand, from the quality of the goods and convenience and neatness of packages, have secured a permanent and growing trade. The feathers are purchased with great care, a special effort being made to procure ripe live goose feathers. In sorting the feathers the coarse ones are carefully culled out, as well as all others that may be objectionable. They are then packed in new muslin sacks holding from one pound up to fifty.

The experience of myself and predecessors—extending over a period of forty years—enables me to meet the wants of the trade in a most satisfactory manner.

Having constantly on hand a large stock of Feathers, I am prepared to fill orders promptly.

Respectfully Yours,
F. G. CRAIGHEAD.

The Cordial Balm of Syricum and Tonic Pills.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

However obscure the cause may be which contribute to render nervous debility a disease so prevalent, affecting, as it does, nearly one-half of our adult population, it is a melancholy fact that day by day, and year by year, we witness a most frightful increase of nervous affections from the slightest neuralgia to the more grave and extreme forms of characterized by a general languor or weakness of the whole organism, especially of the nervous system, obstructing and preventing the ordinary functions of nature; hence there is a disordered state of the secretions; constipation, scanty and high-colored urine with an excess of earthy or limey sediment, indicative of waste of brain and nerve substance, frequent palpitations of the heart, loss of memory, and marked irresolution of purpose, and inability to carry into action any well defined business enterprise, or to fix the mind upon any one thing at a time. There is great sensitiveness to impress though retained but a short time, with a flickering and fluttering condition of the mental faculties, rendering an individual what is commonly called a whiffle-minded, or fickle-minded man.

This condition of the individual, distressing as it is, may, with a certainty, be cured by

Medicines unrivalled for their wonderful properties and remarkable cures of all Nervous Complaints. Their efficacy is equally great in the treatment and cure of Cancers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pastule, Pimples, Tetter, Fever Sores, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Scaldhead, Barbers' Itch, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Copper-Colored Blothes, Glandular Swelling, Worms and Black Spots in the Flesh, Discolorations, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth and Nose, Sore Legs, and sores of every character, because these medicines are the very best

BLOOD MEDICINE

Ever placed before the people, and are warranted to be the most Powerful Alterative ever originated by man, removing Morbid Sensibility, Depression of Spirits, Dementia, and Melancholia.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAY EVENING, November 11, 1876.

There was a moderate business at the banks to-day, with no particular variation in the usual rates.

—The following is the statement of the New York city banks this week, compared with the last:

| | Nov. 4. | Nov. 11. | Differences. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Loans | $260,684,200 | $259,652,400 | Dec. $1,031,800 |
| Specie | 17,436,600 | 17,569,100 | Inc. 132,500 |
| Legal tenders | 46,352,800 | 44,160,900 | Dec. 2,191,900 |
| Deposits | 215,392,900 | 212,134,500 | Dec. 3,258,400 |
| Circulation | 15,090,600 | 15,062,500 | Dec. 28,100 |

—The receipts at the United States Treasury of national bank notes for redemption for the week ending to-day, as compared with the corresponding week of last year, were as follows:

| | 1875. | 1876. |
|---|---|---|
| New York | $1,038,000 | $698,000 |
| Boston | 877,000 | 1,045,000 |
| Philadelphia | 207,000 | 706,000 |
| Chicago | 80,000 | 54,000 |
| Cincinnati | 64,000 | 15,000 |
| Miscellaneous | 777,000 | 839,000 |
| Totals | $3,038,000 | $3,557,000 |

The total receipts for to-day were $601,514. The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $445,653 26, and from customs, $332,492 10. The Treasury now holds $337,954,800 to secure national bank circulation and $19,153,000 to secure public deposits. The United States bonds deposited for circulation for the week ending to-day amounted to $207,000; United States bonds held for circulation withdrawn for the week ending to-day, $30,000. The circulation outstanding November 11, 1876, amounts to $319,700,418, exclusive of $2,099,190 in gold notes.

—The New York Herald says: The future prospect of the non-dividend earning roads is not viewed with favor by speculators, and a feeling is growing up that there is nothing in the way of business promises to better their condition in the immediate future. This opinion is daily influencing short sales, and therewith the opposition of bears who are not squeamish in circulating reports to the detriment of the lines and to the advantage of their own pockets.

Gold Closed at 109¼.

MONEY.

NEW YORK, November 11.—Money 1½@3½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4½@6½ per cent. Customs receipts $178,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $65,000. Clearings $27,000,000. Sterling 482@484.

GOLD.

Gold opened at 109¾, declined to 109¼ and closed at 109½. Carrying rates 2½, 2, 3, 1½ and 1 per cent. Loans also made flat.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Government bonds dull and lower. In railroad bonds this afternoon Union Pacific firsts declined to 105¾ and Milwaukee and St. Paul consolidated sinking funds to 86⅝; New York Central coupons firsts sold at 119 and sixes of 1873 at 102½. State bonds quiet at nominal prices. The stock market opened at a decline of from ¼ to ⅝ per cent., but subsequently advanced from ¼ to 1¼ per cent., chiefly in Lake Shore, St. Paul, Western Union, Michigan Central and New Jersey Central. After noon there was a decline of from ¼ to 1⅛ per cent., the latter Michigan Central. Subsequently the market became extremely dull, but toward the close became firm and higher, the advance from the lowest point of the day ranging from ¼ to 1⅞ per cent. The greatest improvement was in Western Union, which rose to 73. Lake Shore advanced to 55½, Michigan Central to 42⅞, New Jersey Central to 33⅜, Delaware Lackawanna and Western to 72¾, St. Paul common to 21½, preferred to 52¾ and New York Central to 102¼. The other changes were slight. The market closed active with better prices. Transactions aggregated 152,000 shares, of which 2,000 were Erie, 56,000 Lake Shore, 2,200 Northwestern, 10,700 St. Paul, 10,500 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 9,000 New Jersey Central, 14,800 Michigan Central, 3,300 Ohio and Mississippi and 39,000 Western Union. The following were the closing quotations:

LONDON, November 11, 5 P. M.—At the Stock Exchange during the week consols have been dull and declined ¼ per cent. English railways have advanced, but the best point was not maintained to the close. The foreign market has been firm, the balance of the changes being on the rising side. Scarcely any stock, however, closed at the highest level. There was a general relapse yesterday attributed to Lord Beaconsfield's warlike speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet. Americans have been adversely affected by the political complications in the United States, which are attracting much attention. The Times, to-day, printed a special dispatch from Philadelphia over a column long, giving the latest phase of affairs. The large withdrawals of gold from the Bank of England have not had much influence upon discount rates, because of the scarcity of bills offering.

GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
SATURDAY, November 11, 1876.

Business could not be called active. The intense excitement concerning the Presidential election continues. There seems to be no let down; from present appearances it will take some time to have the facts ascertained. The weather was decidedly unfavorable for out door transactions. The rain that set in early in the day continued to the close. In regard to prices we have nothing of special importance to note. Below will be found a carefully revised market.

The receipts of the leading articles of produce in this city since our last are as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Flour, bbls | 1,400 | Apples, bbls | 492 |
| Cheese, bxs | 118 | Corn, bus | 820 |
| Wheat, bus | 475 | Barley, bus | 7,255 |
| Rye, bus | 30 | Oats, bus | 2,905 |
| Butter, pkgs | 64 | Bacon, tcs | 50 |
| Potatoes, bus | 280 | Hay, bales | 65 |

The receipts of the leading articles of produce in this city during the week ending to-day, compared with the corresponding receipts for the three preceding weeks, are as follows:

| Hay, bales | 1,125 | 995 | 898 | 1,117 |

The quotations given in the following reports are prices realized in wholesale transactions, unless otherwise specified. On small sales, dealers will charge an advance. Prices of grain, unless stated to the contrary, are free in elevator.

Grain, Flour and Feed.

GRAIN—The mills report a steady trade demand, particularly for wheat—the late advance having been fully maintained. The firmness in the West has not been without its effect here. Wheat—We quote choice red winter at $1 25@1 28; amber do $1 30@1 33; white $1 33@1 35. Corn is quiet and easy as noted yesterday. We quote shelled at 56@57c for prime yellow; 55@56c for high-mixed; 53@54c for low-mixed. Ear is quiet at 53@55c for prime yellow; 50@52c for mixed; new ear corn is in large supply and easy at 40@43c ₩ bushel. Oats are in fair demand and rather firmer. We quote prime white at 37@38c per bushel; mixed 35@36c. Rye is stronger and in fair demand at 73@75c. Barley is in liberal supply and rather weak for spring. We quote 85c@$1 00 for good to prime spring; prime fall at $1 00@1 15. Jobbing sales are made at the general advance.

FLOUR—The market was steady. The demand, however, was not so active as a few days since. This was no doubt owing in a great measure to the excitement attending the Presidential contest. The largest inquiry was for favorite brands. Local millers quote their wholesale rates as follows: No. 1 white wheat flour $7 50 ₩ barrel; No. 1 amber do $6 75 @7 00; prime red wheat flour $6 25@6 50; in sacks 25c less per barrel. The jobbing prices of the leading dealers for standard brands of flour are steady as follows: Choice brands of red winter wheat flour $6 50@6 75; white wheat $7 25@7 50; Wisconsin is quoted at $6 00@6 25; Minnesota $6 50@6 75; fancy St. Louis $8 50@9 00; choice patents $8 50@9 00; Graham flour $6 50@6 75; cornmeal 70c ₩ bushel; oatmeal $6 75 ₩ barrel; kegs $3 75; rye flour $4 50@4 75 ₩ barrel.

HAY—The market could not be called an active one. Buyers are taking hold sparingly, with the supply fully up to the demand. We quote baled on track at $13 00@14 00 ₩ ton for choice No. 1; $10 00@12 00 for No. 2. Sales from store are at $12 00@16 00.

MILL FEED—The market is quiet and easy. We quote bran at $12 00@13 00; seconds and shipstuffs $15 00@17 00; middlings $20 00@21 00; chopped feed $20 00@22 00.

Country Produce.

APPLES—The supply being considerably in excess of the demand, prices are weak and unsatisfactory. We quote choice at $1 25@1 50 ₩ barrel; medium 75c@$1 25.

BEESWAX—Is in fair demand at 30@35c ₩ ℔.

BEANS—The supply is light with an active demand and firm market. We quote at $1 50 @1 75 per bushel for navy.

BROOM CORN—Dealers report a moderately active market. The rates current are the same as those ruling for some days past. We quote choice hurl at 6@7c, as to quality; brush that will work up 5@5½c; medium green 4@4½c; red-topped 3@4c; inferior not wanted at any price; crooked in fair demand at about 33 per cent. off from the prices given, according to quality.

BUTTER—The market was a dull one the supply being in excess of the demand, hence buyers are indifferent about taking hold unless at low figures. We quote nominally as follows: Strictly gilt-edged table grades sell pretty rapidly at full rates, but lower qualities have to be shaded. We quote prime to choice solid packed 15@18c: do roll 18@20c; choice dairy rolls 20@23c ₩ ℔.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is offering quite freely with a moderate demand. We quote at $3 50@3 75 per cwt. for prime quality.

CHEESE—Dealers report an active market and a good demand. We quote prime September Ohio factory at 13@13¼c in round lots; jobbing at 13¾@14c. New York Goshen rules at 13¾@14c in round lots; 14¼@14½c in a jobbing way.

CRANBERRIES—Are coming in freely and the market is easy. Prices range at $8 00@9 00 ₩ barrel; $3 25@3 50 ₩ bushel.

CIDER—The market is quiet and prices are easy but unchanged. We quote at $3 00@4 00 ₩ barrel.

DRIED FRUITS—The supply is considered ample; prices, however, are unchanged. We quote dried apples nominal at 4¾@5c ₩ ℔ for prime, and 6c for fancy; dried peaches 9@12c.

EGGS—The market is quiet and rather easy. We quote strictly fresh at 25@27c ₩ dozen; pickled weak at 22@23c.

FEATHERS—Choice are quoted at 60@65c in wholesale lots; lower qualities 50@60c.

HONEY—We can report a fair trade demand for new California at 22@23c ₩ ℔; domestic 20c ₩ ℔.

NUTS—Are in good supply. We quote Chestnuts at $3 50@4 00 ₩ bushel. Walnuts 50c ₩ bushel. Hickory nuts $1 50 ₩ bushel.

ONIONS—Are easy at $2 00@2 50 ₩ barrel.

POULTRY—There is a better demand and the market is a little firmer but the supply is still liberal. We quote live chickens by the coop at 40@45c ₩ pair; dressed 14c ₩ ℔. Live turkeys rule at 75c each; dressed 15@16c ₩ ℔. Live ducks 60@65c ₩ pair.

POTATOES—The supply has worked off so much that the market is considerably firmer, and prices are quoted rather higher. For strictly prime stock the range on track is 65@70c ₩ bushel, as to quality; 75@80c for strictly prime peachblows from store. Jersey sweets $3 50 @3 75 ₩ barrel.

VINEGAR—There is a moderate demand at 16 @18c ₩ gallon for prime country stock; 14@15c for best city make.

Provisions.

Dealers report a firmer market and an increased demand for most articles that come under this head. The rates current are as follows:

BACON—The market is steady. Jobbing quotations are as follows: Shoulders 8c ₩ pound; short rib sides 10¼c; clear sides 10¾c.

CUT AND CURED MEATS—Hams were unchanged at 14¾c ₩ ℔ for extra sugar-cured; offered at 14¼c for Monday. Breakfast bacon rules easy and we quote sugar-cured at 13¾c. Sugar-cured shoulders were steady at 9¾@10c. Dried beef, sugar-cured, was firm at 15c. Beef tongues, ₩ dozen, are quoted at $6 50.

LARD—Demand slack and market easy. We quote refined lard in tierces 11½c ₩ ℔; in half barrels 11¾c ₩ ℔; in buckets 12¼c ₩ ℔; in 3-℔ caddies 14c ₩ ℔; in 5-℔ caddies 13¾ ₩ ℔; in 3-℔ pails 14c ₩ ℔; in 5-℔ pails 13¾c ₩ ℔; in 6-℔ pails 13½c ₩ ℔. Leaf lard rules at 11c in tierces.

LARD OIL—The market is quiet. We quote best makes of extra at 95c per gallon; current makes of extra at 82@85c: No. 1 at 73c ₩ gallon; No. 2 at 60c; miners' oil, white winter, 60@62c; yellow winter, 55@57c.

MESS PORK—Continues steady at $18 00@18 50 ₩ barrel.

TALLOW—We quote chandlers', city rendered, at 9@9½c ₩ ℔; country do 7¾@8c ₩ ℔; rough 5½@6c ₩ ℔.

Groceries.

Dealers continue to report a good trade demand. Several of the leading dealers have been receiving new crop molasses from the South.

BUSINESS—The market during the week has undergone various changes. We had an election excitement and an oil excitement. The former is not yet over, and will probably last for some days. Prices have varied almost daily. The crude receipts show an increase over the previous week. The totals also include the Conduit pipe line for October, 75,552 barrels. The shipments of refined, east, rule about the same as last week. The oil men, as a general thing, are confident of an advance in the near future.

The sales and resales of crude petroleum for the past two weeks in the oil regions were as follows:

| | Bbls. | | Bbls. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Monday | 51,000 | Thursday | 20,000 |

November 11.—The transactions to-day show a slight improvement in prices. We may look for an improvement before long in both prices and sales.

CRUDE—The market opened quiet but firm at $3 22½ with a strong feeling and steadily advance during the day until $3 30, the price now bid. In shipment more inquiry than of late at United prices. Well prices same as Conduit and United; in Union nothing doing. The reported large sales of refined at full prices at seaboard is having a beneficial effect on crude in the oil region. The market looks stronger at present in prices than for some time past, the trade expecting the coming week to show better feeling and prices than the closing price of the present week.

REFINED—Holders are firmer in their views, there being a tendency to an advance. We quote 500 and 1,000 barrel lots at 22c on cars, to city trade 23c. The Eastern markets range as follows: New York 26c; cases 30c; Baltimore and Philadelphia 25½@26c.

OIL BARRELS—Are dull; city make $1 20; country $1 05.

[By Western Union Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, November 11, closing 10.—There is but little doing, but no change made in prices, holders being very firm. Sales of 2,700 barrels refined, high test, at 27c. The following are the asking figures: Crude 11¾c in bulk and 15½c in barrels; refined 26c in barrels and 30c in cases; city naptha 14c in shipping order. Refined in barrels is quoted at 26c at Philadelphia, and nominally 26c at Baltimore.

OIL CITY, November 11.—Market quiet and steady: United at wells $3 23¾; shipment nominal at $3 27½@3 30.

ROUSEVILLE, November 11.—Not quoted.

TIDIOUTE, November 11.—Market quiet and unchanged; $3 10 asked.

TITUSVILLE, November 11.—Not quoted.

PARKER, November 11.—Market quiet; United $3 21¼; $3 22¼ asked; shipment $3 22½ bid.

[By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 11.—Petroleum dull: crude 12c; refined 26c; cases 30c; naptha 14c for city.

PHILADELPHIA, November 11.—Petroleum—Crude in barrels 16c; refined 25¾@26c.

LIVERPOOL, November 11.—Refined petroleum 19d; spirits do 10d.

ANTWERP, November 11.—Refined petroleum 53¼ francs.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Central Stock Yards, East Liberty.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
SATURDAY, November 11, 1876.

The excitement over the election has in great measure subsided, and by the opening of the market on Monday matters and things will move along as usual.

Stock coming in slowly, most of it being assigned for the Eastern market, but by Monday there will be a sufficiency of stock to meet the demands of trade.

CATTLE.

As before stated, the supply was light and the market rather slow at a slight advance over last week. The range was for best 1,500 to 1,600 ℔s $5 00@5 25; common 1,000 to 1,100 ℔s, $3 87@4 25; stockers $3 00@3 75.

HOGS.

It is predicted that hogs will rule lower next week. Philadelphias brought $6 20@6 30; Yorkers $5 80@6 00. Offerings all disposed of.

SHEEP.

The supply was light with demand ditto, causing the market to rule exceedingly dull. The rulings were for 90 to 100 ℔s $4 50@4 75; 80 to 90 ℔s $4 00@4 50; 70 to 80 ℔s $3 50@4 00.

MILCH COWS.

Were in moderate demand at prices ranging from $30 00 to $65 00.

[By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, November 11.—Cattle—Receipts 1,450 head. Shipments 3,400 head. Market firm with a better feeling; but few sales; prices unchanged.

Hogs—Receipts 15,000 head. Shipments 4,100 head. Market active but lower; heavy $5 50@5 90; good to choice packing $5 50@5 70.

Sheep—Receipts 150 head. Market dull and nominal.

ST. LOUIS, November 11.—Hogs lower; Yorkers $5 30@5 50; butchers' $5 75@5 85.

Cattle—In better demand; prime to choice steers $4 75@5 00; medium to good $3 75@4 00.

CINCINNATI, November 11.—Hogs in good demand; common $5 00@5 35; fair to good light and packing grades $5 40@5 55; heavy $5 60 @5 65.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 11.—Hogs $5 25 @5 40. Receipts 4,600 head.

IRON MARKETS.

CINCINNATI.

[Mathew Addy & Co.]

November 11.—The intense excitement over election returns which has prevailed throughout the week, has brought the trade in pig iron nearly to a standstill.

The market presented the same general features as indicated in our last, with no change in quoted prices.

PHILADELPHIA.

November 11.—Iron—Pig iron commands full prices, and there is a fair inquiry. Sales of 2,000 tons No. 1 foundry, in lots, at $22 00@22 50; No. 2 at $20 00@21 00 here, and grey forge at $18 00 in the cars at the furnace, and $19 00@20 00, delivered here.

Manufactured Iron—Bars are selling at 2⅝c ₩ ℔.

Nails—Are taken in lots at $3 25 per keg.

NEW YORK.

November 11—Iron—We learn of nothing of interest in this market; consumers buy only as their wants demand, and business in consequence is limited.

Scotch Pig—Moves slowly in lots as wanted by the trade at our quotations. Late cables quote a firm market, with a good business at 65s. 6d. for Gartsherrie, 69s. 6d. for Coltness, 64s. for Glengarnock, and 58s. 6d. for Eglinton.

American Pig—The present state of the market seems to have no favorable outlook. The demand is limited, prices rule in buyers' favor, and with the general uncertainty which attends the future of the trade, buyers are loth to come forward except as their wants necessitate. We learn of no important business to report.

Rails—New iron are slow of sale. New steel are quiet, and we learn of no business; in old T we note a sale of 300 tons at a private price, quoted $20 50 ₩ ton.

Car wheels—Are quiet at $20 50 ₩ ton.

Scrap—Is in moderate stock, and held at $27 00 and upward.

[By Associated Press.]

November 11.—Manufactured metal dull. Ingot lake 20½@20¾c. Pig iron—Scotch dull at $28 00@28 50; American dull and heavy at $18 00@22 00. Russia sheet 11¼@11½c, gold. Nails steady; cut $3 10; clinch $4 60@5 35; horseshoe $20 00@26 00.

BOSTON.

November 11.—Pig continues to droop. Cutting on prices, though not quite so prevalent as it is said to be in New York and Philadelphia, gives the market a very dull aspect. The foundrymen, large and small, seem to think that lower prices are inevitable, and will not purchase except to supply their immediate wants. A few holders are still confident in their views. The large stock of pig held by the Reading Railroad Company continues to hang over the market and depress prices. Several more blast furnaces are also said to be preparing to blow in. We quote all the way from $20 00@25 00, with the tendency downward. Scotch continues in small supply and small demand, and we quote Gartsherrie $31 00 and Eglinton $29 00 currency.

Bar—Is quiet at unchanged prices—$49 00 for refined and $40 00 for common. The demand for nails has slackened.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

LONDON, November 11.—In the Mincing lane markets during the past week the leading feature has been a further heavy rise in sugar, amounting to £3 to £5 ₩ tok. The general recovery from the lowest point of the market in the spring is now £7@9 ₩ ton. Transactions have been very large with the market more excited than it has been since 1863. The movement arises from the certainty of the French beet root crop being much smaller than was anticipated and the rapid advance upon refined sugars. The limited quantity of good coffee available brought high rates. Cotton is again dearer and the market active. Rice is firm and tending upward. Tea is dull. Spices are firm with more inquiry. Saltpeter is quiet.

CINCINNATI, November 11.—Cotton quiet but firm at 1 ¾c. Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat steady; red $1 15@1 25. Corn steady; old 52@53c; new 40@43c. Oats quiet but firm at 30@38c. Rye dull at 68c. Barley dull and nominal. Pork scarce and firm; old $16 75; new $15 75. Lard in good demand; steam 9¾c; kettle 10¼@10¾c. Bulkmeats in good demand at 6½@8@8¼@8½@8¾c, all partly cured. Bacon inactive; shoulders 7¾@7½c; clear rib scarce at 9½@9¾c; clear 9¾@9⅞c. Whisky quiet and weak at $1 07. Butter steady and unchanged.

PHILADELPHIA, November 11.—Cloverseed 13½@14c per ℔. Flour firm; extra $4 12½; Minnesota family $6 25@6 60. Wheat unchanged. Corn firm; mixed 55½@56c; new 40c; sail 56½c. Oats unchanged. Pork $17 00@17 25. Lard 10c. Whisky—Western $1 12. Butter steady; New York and Bradford county extras 32@33c; do firsts 28@30c; Western extras 25@27c; do firsts 21@22c. Cheese unchanged. Eggs—Western fresh 28c.

TOLEDO, November 11.—Flour steady. Wheat steady; No. 3 white Wabash $1 26; No. 1 white Michigan $1 30; No. 2 do $1 23; No. 3 red $1 10½. Corn steady; high mixed 51½c; No. 2 spot, seller November, 49½c; do new 49½c. Oats firmer; white 38c; Michigan 33c; rejected 25c.

ST. LOUIS, November 11.—Cotton unchanged. Flour firmer and unchanged. Wheat higher; fall $1 21 bid; cash and November $1 12½@1 12¾. Corn 41¼c. Oats quiet; 30¾c bid. Rye lower; 56½c bid. Barley unchanged. Whisky dull at $1 07. Provisions unchanged; only a jobbing trade.

MILWAUKEE, November 11.—Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat opened firm and closed firm; No. 1 Milwaukee $1 18; No. 2 $1 11¼; No. 3 $1 03½. Corn steady; No. 2 46c. Oats firm; No. 2 31c. Rye lower; No. 1 63½c. Barley dull; No. 2 spring 78c; No. 3 43½@44c.

LIVERPOOL, November 11.—Breadstuffs dull but firm; California white wheat average 10s 2d@10s 4d; do club 10s 4d@10s 7d; red Western spring, 9s@9s 10d; winter 9s 8d@10s. Flour 23@28s. Corn 25¾@26s. Oats 3s@3s 6d. Barley 5½s. Clover seed 50@55s.

Wool.

BOSTON, November 11.—Market quiet. Sales were the smallest for several months. Prices steady and firm. Ohio and Pennsylvania 42½ @45c. Sales of fine fleeces comparatively small, ranging at 46@47c for double extra and 45@46 for extra. Michigan attracted more attention than any other kind; sales at 38@40c; Wisconsin 40½@41c. Combing and delaine steady and firm; combing 48@52½c; fine delaine 43@47c. Pulled quiet and very firm; good and choice super 40@45c; choice super very scarce.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, November 11.—Cotton steady at 12¾@12 7-16c. Futures weak, tending down; November 12 5-32c; December 12 5-16c; January 12 11-32@12⅝c; February 12 7-32@12 9-16c.

BOSTON, November 11.—Flour—Minnesota $6 25@7 00. Corn—Mixed and yellow, new, 62c. Oats dull and in moderate demand.

OSWEGO, November 11.—Wheat unchanged. Corn dull at 57c.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, November 11.—Trade movement continued slow but more orders were arriving from the West and South, and the market had an improved undertone. Cotton goods quiet but steady in first hands. Prints and cottonades rather more active. Woolen goods in light demand. The Daily Bulletin says Fay, Hazen & Co., dry goods jobbers, have suspended payment.

MONONGAHELA—Three feet nine inches and falling.

Boats Advertised for This Day.

Brownsville and Geneva...... 8 A. M. and 4 P. M

THE marks last evening indicated three feet nine inches and falling slowly. The weather during the day was mild and pleasant—a wide contrast from Saturday.

LATEST accounts from the Glasgow say she can be raised.

THE Arlington's cargo of 650 tons was insured in Cincinnati.

THE Ella Hughes has been chartered at Memphis for Cole's circus.

THE Ironsides, of Gray's Iron Line, is receiving for St. Louis and will have dispatch.

THE Iron Mountain on her arrival will load for New Orleans direct. Shippers can rely on this.

COMMODORE KERR with the Granite State leaves Portsmouth this morning for Pittsburgh.

THE packet Emma Graham, Captain Thornburg, will arrive to-morrow and leave for Cincinnati on Monday.

AMONG the freight of the Arlington was 143 head of horses consigned to Texas, most of which were lost.

THE steamer Laura L. Davis will take the place of the Glasgow in the Cincinnati and Evansville trade.

THERE is no mistake about it—the packets on the slackwater leave promptly at 8 A. M. and 4 P. M. for the headwaters.

THE punctual Salt Valley, Captain DeWolf, takes her departure at 4 P. M. for Wheeling, Marietta and Ironton. The clerks are Messrs. Kirker and Buchanan.

THE faithful packet Carrie Brooks, Captain Darlington, will be found at the landing. She will return to Zanesville on Tuesday at 3 P. M., so make your arrangements accordingly.

THE Glasgow was owned one-third each by the Memphis and Ohio River Packet Company, Louisville and Henderson Packet Company and United States Mail Line Company.

PADUCAH, KY., November 10, 10:18 P. M.—The steamer Eckert returned from the Arlington's wreck this morning, bringing her passengers. Don't think the Eckert can do anything with her. Very little of her freight as yet recovered and that in a badly damaged condition. The passengers are loud in their praises of Captain Moore and Mr. McConnell for their untiring energy in saving them.

THE people of St. Louis have done themselves honor by electing Captain Isaac M. Mason Marshal. He is beyond all question one of the most honorable and upright men to be found anywhere. We have watched him from second clerk to his present position, and have yet to see the man who ever spoke a disrespectful word of him. He is a gentleman in the true acceptance of the term.

AN OLD-TIME BOAT.—The Atlanta was one of the few steamers furnished with two sternwheels working separately. She was built on the Ohio long before the war for the Alabama river, her owners being Captains A. P. Boardman, A. C. Olds and Wm. Fish, and she cost $25,000. Her dimensions were: 200 feet long over all, thirty feet wide and five feet deep; cylinder twenty inches diameter and six feet stroke. She had full length cabins for 100 passengers, and was calculated to carry 2,500 bales of cotton. A. C. Olds, formerly of the Wetumpke, Alabama and other Southern boats, came out on her as clerk.

Dykes and Currents.

Charles M. Scott on dykes and currents: To sum the argument up: First, a stone dyke, where the current plows over it at any time, must undermine from the cutting eddy that is produced below it by the water falling over it and soon destroys it. The wreck heap being open allows the water to percolate through it at all depths, and producing slackwater below, prevents a reacting or cutting eddy, and fills up behind it in a short time, strengthening it. At Island 16 a wreck heap formed on the head of the island; the head washed away, but the wreck heap remained, and although the snagboats pulled some of the snags that obstructed the channel, yet the main body remains. The same with Islands 76 and 82: the elbow was formed by dirt lodging on the head of a bar under a point, but when the point above washed away, the wreck heap still stood, until the channel cut so as to leave it on the opposite side of the river. Among the arguments in favor of wreck heap dams is that they absorb the heavy timber growing along the banks, and by utilizing them save the future expense of pulling them as snags. Second, they can be built in high water as well as low. Third, the time required is so short that one steamboat and eight or ten flatboats with proper machinery and sufficient crew, could build one mile per month below the mouth of Merrimac, but would require double the force or time to do the same work between St. Louis and there on account of bringing the material so far, but combined with Eads' mattresses, would soon secure to St. Louis an uninterrupted channel of more than double the present depth.

The Glasgow.

Almost simultaneous with the receipt of the news of the Arlington disaster, Captain Jos. S. Wise received the following dispatch from Captain Thomas Bolus, the commander of the Glasgow:

LOUISVILLE, November 9, 1876.

The Glasgow sank on the Falls this morning. Bottom knocked out. No freight damaged. She can be wrecked. Stern two feet out of water. Forecastle and aft and boilers dry.
TOM BOLUS.

The Glasgow left Cincinnati Wednesday evening for Evansville, with rather a light trip, but as all her cargo was on deck, none of it was injured. The Glasgow was built in January, 1866, and during her career she has changed hands so often and plied in so many trades that we are unable to obtain her history definitely.

Captain James S. Wise went down to the scene of the wreck on the Louisville mailboat last night to see what could be done.

Captain Wise desires the public to understand that he will have another boat in the trade next week.

THE Iron Mountain damaged one of her ore barges by colliding with the Madison packet, Ben Franklin, near Aurora, Indiana.

Old-Time Boats.

The following is a list of steamboats built and registered at this port in 1852. They number sixty-nine boats. The largest was the John Simonds, Captain Newman Robirds, 1,024 tons register. The smallest was the Major A. Drain, nine tons. The celebrated packet Allegheny, Captain C. W. Batchelor, was built during this year. She measured 520 tons. Her time between Louisville and Cincinnati has yet to be beaten:

"WHAT WILL
Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient
CURE?" asks the sufferer from a multitude of diseases. We answer: It will remove from the system the active cause of most of the diseases that flesh is heir to. It won't mend a broken limb, nor close a bullet hole; but it may be profitably used in stomachic diseases. It will do no one any harm and may do much good. Try it, and see if it won't suit your case.

Reckless Shooting.

About eleven o'clock Friday night Harry P. Sloterbeck, druggist, at Anderson and Lacock streets, Allegheny, was aroused by a report of a pistol shot. Upon investigation he discovered that a pistol ball had gone through the front window of his store, lodging in a wall that separates the store from a room where himself, wife and child were sleeping. Where the shot came from or what the intention was is not known, as all was quiet and nobody could be seen in the locality when Mr. Sloterbeck came out.

Sudden Death of an Estimable Lady.

The many friends of Mrs. Rachel Moreland, wife of Alderman J. D. Moreland, will regret to learn of the demise of that lady, which occurred suddenly on yesterday afternoon, of pneumonia. The deceased was a person of great natural endowments, added to which was an excellent education, which made her an ornament to the social circle in which she moved, and her death has caused a void in that circle that will never be filled. Mrs. Moreland was a sister of Wm. D. Moore, Esq., and the mother of W. C. Moreland, Esq. Deceased was in her fifty-ninth year.

The Jury Commissionership.

The following order, which fully explains itself, was made on Saturday morning by the Judges of the Common Pleas Court:

Whereas, John McClelland has resigned his office of Jury Commissioner, and Charles B. Strain has neglected and refused, for several months past, to discharge his duties as Jury Commissioner, and by reason of the premises the said office has become vacant, the undersigned, Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas, do hereby appoint John Knowland in place of John McClelland, and William Pit Beadell, in place of Charles B. Strain, to serve respectively as Jury Commissioners until the expiration of the term for which said McClelland and Strain were elected.

THOMAS EWING,
J. W. F. WHITE.

The Allegheny Train Ordinance.

At the meeting of City Councils to-day will be introduced an ordinance similar in its provisions to the one in force in Allegheny, prohibiting persons from getting on or off railroad trains while in motion. Following is the text of the ordinance to be considered to-day:

SECTION 1. No person not in the employ of railway companies shall get on or off any locomotive, tender, or train of cars, or any platform or steps thereof while the same, or either of them, are in motion.

SEC. 2. It shall be lawful for any constable, police officer or conductor of said cars to arrest any person violating, or attempting to violate, any of the provisions of this ordinance and to bring such offender before the Mayor or any aldermen of the city for hearing on said charge and to abide the decision of said magistrate.

SEC. 3. That any person violating the provisions of this ordinance, or trespassing upon any such car or cars contrary to the true intent and spirit of the ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor exceeding five dollars and costs.

The ordinance further provides that the law is not to go into effect until thirty days after its passage.

A Dogberry in the Oil Regions.

Our readers will remember the incendiary fire at Foxburg, whereby an entire block of buildings were destroyed. After the occurence a private detective was engaged to work up the case, and he obtained information which led him to suppose that two men named Douglass and Burns were the guilty parties. It was alleged that they had made threats against the property in which the fire originated, and they had been seen in the vicinity when the flames broke out. That his suspicions were not groundless was evinced by the fact that Burns made a confession implicating Douglass.

On Friday the detective in question and Detective McGovern, of this city, arrested Burns at Petrolia and brought him to Parkers, and subsequently they arrested Douglass at Foxburg. When the two men were brought together a hearing was had before Justice Daily, of Parkers, and the officers were sure of caging their men at Kittanning, inasmuch as it was supposed the evidence against them was conclusive. The hearing took place, but what was the surprise and disgust of the detectives, when the magistrate discharged them, notwithstanding Burns' confession and the testimony adduced.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Library Hall.

The engagement of Miss Mary Anderson closed on Saturday evening, having been artistically successful, but a failure financially, owing to the overpowering interest in the late election.

Comedy follows tragedy, and this evening Miss Katie Putnam and her company of mirth-provokers begin a season, opening with a dramatization of Dickens' beautiful story, "The Old Curiosity Shop." Miss Katie plays two parts, Little Nell and the Marchioness; and she could choose nothing in which better to display her versatility. Mr. Coleman, who played the character originally at Wallack's Theater, New York, will be the eccentric dwarf Quilp, while Mark Bates, an old Pittsburgh favorite, will make the most of the volatile Dick Swiveller. The other characters will be in good hands.

Miss Anna Dickinson will follow Putnam as the next star.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Mr. Sothern was attacked with serious illness on Saturday morning, and, consequently, was unable to appear at either the matinee or evening performance. "Our American Cousin" was announced for the afternoon, and there was no time to change the bill. Mr. Crompton, the treasurer, formerly stage manager, volunteered to undertake Mr. Sothern's part of Dundreary for the occasion, and, although somewhat nervous about it, and having only half an hour in which to prepare for the ordeal, went on the stage and played the part so cleverly as to delight the large audience present. There must be inspiration in Sothern's clothes, which Mr. Crompton wore, for some who did not hear the announcement of the great comedian's illness were in blissful ignorance of the change until after the performance was more than half over. Mr. C. can well feel proud of his success.

This evening Miss Adelaide Neilson, the celebrated English actress and the most beautiful woman on the stage, will begin an engagement of one week, during which she will appear in "Romeo and Juliet" and "As You Like It." Her Juliet is the finest to be seen in this day and generation. It will be played this, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

THE Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting this afternoon at half past two o'clock.

Over 500,000 bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup are sold every season, and thousands of persons saved from an untimely grave.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

HAYES' MAJORITY, 9,481.

Total Vote of the County, 48,871.

The Judges of the Court of Common Pleas (Messrs. Sterrett, Collier and White) and their assistants, completed the work of opening and tabulating the returns of the election in Allegheny county, on Saturday, about noon. The clerks at once went to work on the footings, and at half-past four o'clock they had summed up the votes for President, Congress, State Senate and House of Representatives. They then adjourned until this morning, when the footings on the county ticket will be made.

The total vote cast in the county was 48,871, divided as follows: Hayes, 28,729, Tilden, 19,248. Peter Cooper, the Greenback candidate, polled 769 votes. G. S. Smith, Prohibition candidrte, 117; and the National American ticket got 8 votes.

THE HUNTER SHOOTING.

Burke and Mullen Have a Hearing Before the Mayor—They are Committed for Trial.

Burke and Mullen, the parties charged with the murderous attack upon Thomas H. Hunter, Esq., chief clerk in the Sheriff's office, on the night of October 9th, were brought before the Mayor on Saturday morning for a hearing. There was a large crowd in attendance and Mr. Hunter was able to appear but was very week.

United States Disirict Attorney McCormick appeared for the prosecutor, Swartzwelder and Moore for Mullen and General Pearson for Burke. The latter waived a hearing, on the charge of felonious assault and battery, but a hearing was demanded on the part of Mullen, when the following testimony was elicited:

Mr. Hunter was sworn, and detailed the particulars of the shooting, which have already been published. He fully identified Burke by his face, although not by his physique. He could not identify Mullen definitely.

On cross examination he said he would not say Mullen was the man. There was a man who had hold of Burke's arm just before the shooting, and the accused was about the same shape and the same sized man as Burke's partner.

On re-direct witness stated that about the time the man had hold of Burke the latter had a pistol in his hand.

Joseph Zimmerman sworn—Do business at Eleventh and Liberty street; was there in October; saw the prisoners at my store between ten and eleven o'clock on the night of the shooting; they were hurrahing for Williams; they bought two cigars; told them to keep quiet or they would be arrested; one them pulled out a pistol and said he would shoot any man who touched him; he went out with the pistol in his hand; they left, saying they would shoot some person; they went down Liberty street; heard of the shooting about twenty minutes afterwards.

On cross-examination by Mr. Swartzwelder, witness stated the parties were in his store about five minutes; had never seen them before; identified them next morning at the Central Station; he couldn't tell which one had the pistol and said he would shoot any person who touched him. The parties did not flourish the pistol in his store.

William Gallaher sworn.—Am a police officer; was on the force in October; saw the two prisoners in October last coming down Liberty street, between Tenth and Eleventh, hurrahing for Williams; cautioned them twice; there were three in the party; they kept quiet and I followed them to Seventh street, where I met Officer McCleary; told him I heard they were hard parties, and to watch them; about twenty minutes after eleven o'clock officer McCleary came to me and asked if I thought I could identify the two men I had pointed out to him; I said I could; he said they were suspected of having shot Mr. Hunter; I went up to the corner of Eleventh and Liberty with Officer McCleary and arrested Mullen, as he seemed to be going into the elevator building.

On cross-examination he said Burke was not with Mullen when the latter was arrested.

Officer McCleary sworn—Remember of seeing the prisoners at Brimstone corner, on Seventh avenue and Smithfield street; they had been hurrahing, and when they came up to me they asked how far it was to the Postoffice; told them and then started on my half-hour round; when I reached Smithfield street I heard the shot and was told that Hunter had been shot. [Witness corroborated Officer Gallagher as to the arrest of Mullen.] Am certain these are the two men, although Burke had a different overcoat on than he now wears. It was about twenty minutes after I directed the men to the Postoffice that I heard the shot fired.

The witness was cross-examined but nothing material was elicited.

Dr. Gilmore was the next witness, and testified as to the character of the wound received by Mr. Hunter. In answer to questions Dr. Gilmore testified that it was impossible to state whether Mr. Hunter was out of danger or not. The attending physicians hoped he was, but the ball, which had not been extracted, might produce very serious effects any time.

Murray McClung sworn—Was with Mr. Hunter on the night he was shot. [Witness detailed the circumstances immediately preceeding and following the shooting.] The face of Burke was indelibly fixed in my mind, and I pointed him out to the officers in a saloon on Fifth avenue; can't positively identify Mullen, although from his size and general appearance I think he is the man; he was arrested shortly after Burke.

Wm. H. McCleary, Clerk of Courts, was the next witness. He corroborated Mr. McClung in reference to the manner in which the shooting was done. He could identify Burke, but not Mullen.

Wm. Coates was sworn, but his evidence was merely cumulative, he fully identifying Burke.

At this point the Commonwealth rested, and the Mayor announced that in view of the fact that the physician had testified Mr. Hunter was not out of danger, he would hold the parties for trial on a charge of felonious assault and battery, and commit them without bail. The prisoners were then escorted to jail.

OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

A Man and Two Women Badly Injured.

A serious accident occurred about ten o'clock Saturday night near the Allegheny water works, Eighth ward, Allegheny. A man named Hemple was driving a two horse wagon along the Ohio street, near the place indicated, and at a point opposite S. Heid's brewery the horses took fright and sprang over a precipice, taking the wagon with them, falling a distance of fifteen feet. Besides Hemple, there were in the wagon two ladies named Schultze and Krugh, both of whom were seriously injured, the former fatally it is thought. Hemple also received a severe injury on his head. The parties all reside at Evergreen, whence they were taken. One of the horses had his neck broken, and the wagon was badly wrecked.

THE County Commissioners and the Controller met Friday afternoon and talked over the workings of the present occupation tax. Messrs. Beckert and Warner were opposed to the law as it is at present, inasmuch as in their opinion it does injustice to the poorer classes. The matter was discussed at length by the persons present, but no conclusion was arrived at.

ON Friday evening the dying establishment of John H. Fitz, at No. 77 Webster street, was entered by thieves. Quite a quantity of wearing apparel, left at the establishment to be cleaned and dyed, was stolen. The thieves are supposed to have been boys, but no arrests have yet been made.

DEATH OF "SNIBBS" ARNOLD.

That Noted Criminal Breathes His Last, Friday Night, in the Western Penitentiary, After Having Served Nearly Half of a Fifteen Years' Sentence—A Resume of the Crimes that Sent Him Over, &c., &c.

The notorious "Snibbs" Arnold died Friday night, in the Western Penitentiary, of asthma and pulmonary diseases, after a protracted illness, aged about forty years. This announcement will call to mind a series of most desperate acts of ruffianism which were perpetrated in this city in open daylight, about seven years ago, by the deceased and another desperado named Len Hartman. We give below a brief account of the crimes of Arnold and Hartman, for which they were both serving terms of fourteen years and ten months:

THE CRIMES THAT SENT HIM OVER THE RIVER.

At nine o'clock Tuesday morning, December 13, 1869, Arnold and Hatman entered the house of Jennie Lieb, an infamous den at No. 58 Market street, where they began to demolish the furniture. They also assaulted the woman Lieb with a knife. The proprietress dispatched a messenge for the police, and Officers John Moore and Thomas Moorhead responded to the call. On their arrival at the house they were met by the two ruffians, each armed with a pistol and knife, and Arnold shot Moore in the right shoulder. The roughs then ran to Hall's saloon, on Third avenue, and Officer Moorhead called several other officers and started in pursuit. When they reached Hall's they found that the desperadoes had escaped through a back door and run down Liberty street. When the fugitives had reached a point opposite Hare's Hotel Officer Moorhead was chose upon the heels of Hartman, who, seeing that he was about to be captured, suddenly wheeled around and shot his pursuer, the ball passing under the scalp at the top of his head. The fugitives then ran to Duquesne way, where Officer Samuel Anderson attempted to stop them, when Arnold struck at him with a knife. Finally the ruffians were disabled, Arnold by a blow on the head with a brick, and Hartman by a shot in the leg, when they were taken to the lock-up, closely followed by a large and excited crowd, who shouted "Hang them!" "Lynch them!" &c.

THE SENTENCES.

The grand jury was in session at the time of the shooting, and the indictments were framed and the witnesses produced before that body on the same day, they finding true bills. On the following Saturday the defendants pleaded guilty to the several indictments, and Judge Stowe at once passed sentence on Arnold as follows: For felonious assault and battery on Samuel Anderson, five years and ten months in the penitentiary; for a similar offense on John Moore, six years in the penitentiary; for aggravated assault on Jennie Leib, three years in the penitentiary. The sentences aggregated fourteen years and ten months. Hartman got a similar sentence.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF ARNOLD.

The following brief sketch of Arnold is taken from the COMMERCIAL of December 21, 1869, the day on which he was removed from the county jail to the Penitentiary:

Arnold's history is a most remarkable one. From an early age he followed the profession of a pickpocket, and after he grew to manhood he was strongly suspected of burglary and even of murder. He never sought, at home here, to disguise his business. He would, in so many words, admit that he was a thief, but defy the officers to catch him. Sometimes he would pledge his honor (?) that he would not operate here, and would be given the "freedom of the city," with the understanding that he was to leave in a given time. Although frequently under arrest he was singularly fortunate in escaping punishment, and has served but one short term in the Penitentiary—one year, we believe. During the last ten years he may have stolen, in money and goods, as much as $50,000. His style of living—hotel and railway fares, and other expenses—called for every dollar of that amount, and we apprehend weaving or shoemaking with plain diet, will not agree with him for a few years at least. His partner, Hartman, was not so accomplished a thief, but he was perhaps the more dairing and desperate of the two. The community may well rejoice that justice, so long delayed, has at last overtaken them both.

A SAD AFFAIR.

Two Brothers, Mistaking Each Other for Burglars, Fire Simultaneously, and Both are Badly Wounded.

There was a sad occurence at the residence of George W. Riddle, at Springdale, on the West Penn Railroad, about two o'clock Saturday morning. It appears that lately a number of burglaries have been perpetrated in that locality, and a few nights ago Mr. Riddle's dog was shot by some one, it was supposed, who designed committing a burglary on the premises. Since then the family have been on the look out for midnight intruders. At the time stated a noise was heard at the back door of the Riddle residence, and the sound aroused the family. Mr. Joseph Riddle, Mr. Stewart Riddle, Mr. T. F. Marshall, a son-in-law of Mr. George R. Riddle, and Edward Riddle, Esq., got out weapons of defense, consisting of revolvers and shot-gun. They then agreed to go out the front door, and by separating and going around the house, surprise the robbers and capture them. The extreme darkness of the night helped to cause the disaster which followed. Joseph Riddle and his brother Edward mistook one another for burglars, the first sending a pistol-ball through Edward's thigh, and Edward firing a charge of shot into Joseph's breast. The two then grappled, and soon discovered their terrible mistake, a discovery which filled the house with horror. The real burglars, it is thought, escaped before the casualties took place. Other shots were exchanged, but fortunately no further wounds were inflicted. Mr. Joseph Riddle's injuries are most severe, and he suffers a great deal of pain. Edward Riddle's injury is a flesh wound, and only requires careful nursing.

The latest report last evening says both young men are improving, and there is little danger of a fatal result in either case. Dr. William Mowry, of Philadelphia, is attending him. Dr. M. was visiting his father, Dr. Mowry, Sr., of Allegheny, when the latter was sent for Saturday morning, and having accompanied him to Springdale, has remained with the wounded men ever since.

A Field Day at Mansfield.

The Fourteenth regiment of the Sixth division, N. G. P., had a field day at Mansfield, Pa., on Saturday. The regiment arrived at the "seat of war" about noon. After partaking of an excellent lunch which was prepared by Company K, Captain Glenn, the regiment formed in ranks and paraded about the town, headed by the Great Western band of this city. Captain Nesbitt, of Company C, of Oakdale, and Captain Shoop also aided in refreshing the members of the Fourteenth, as they arrived at Mansfield. Sometime in the afternoon a sham fight was begun, with companies F, B, and A, on one side with eighty men, companies C, K, D, E, and H, on the other, with one hundred and twenty men. During the fight but one prisoner—Sergeant Daniel Stotler—was captured. Knap's battery, with two pieces of artillery, took part, making the ground in the vicinity of the little town fairly shake. Colonel Hill commanded one side, and Major Glenn the other, with Lieutenant Colonel Gray as umpire. The affair was in every particular a success.

BENJAMIN TRIMBLE, JR., died Saturday night about twelve o'clock, of consumption, aged thirty-one years. Deceased was the youngest son of the late Benjamin Trimble, founder of the Penn Street Varieties Theater.
